TERRORISM REIGNS IN PALESTINE CITY; BOMB EXPLODES IN MARKET

Toll From Explosion Reaches Thirty-Five Arab Men and Women at Haifa—Total in Holy Land Reported as Having Reached Forty-Five Dead and Seventy-Five Injured

HAIFA, Palestine, July 25 (AP).—Terror gripped this Mediterranean port tonight after a terrific bomb explosion killed thirty-five Arab men and women in the crowded market place. Rioting, arson and violence spread swiftly. Four Jews were killed and eight were wounded in Haifa proper.

Disorders in other sections of the Holy Land raised the total casualties during the day to forty-five killed and seventy-five wounded.

Sailors from the British battle cruiser Repulse landed light artillery and posted guards throughout Haifa, mainly on the borders of the Arab and Jewish quarters.

Police said the market place disaster was caused by a time bomb, which exploded with such tremendous force that it blew human beings and animals to pieces in all directions.

CURFEW IMPOSED

Scores of grief-stricken widows and children, screaming and tearing their garments, were seen before the curfew was imposed.

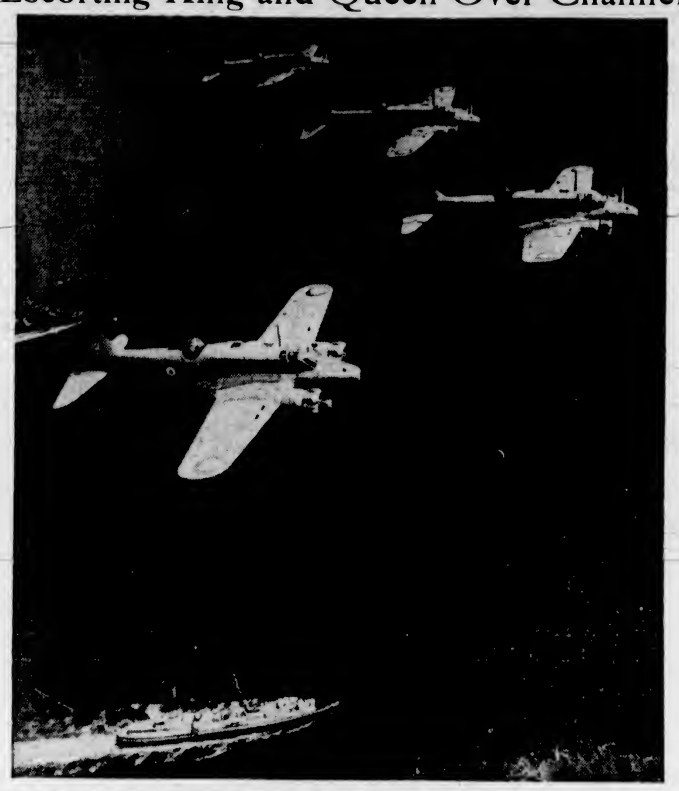

In widespread fires which followed the explosion a whole Jewish bazaar quarter was wiped out.

Casualties today brought the dead and wounded since July 5 to more than 400—an average of twenty a day.

"At least thirty-five" were killed outright in the Haifa market blast, an official communique stated. Several others fell dead or injured in stoning attacks which followed immediately.

The explosion was near the spot where twenty-one were killed and sixty wounded July 6. At least nine buildings were set on fire.

Escorting King and Queen Over Channel

Photographed from one of the eighteen escorting British fighting planes, the Admiralty yacht Enchantress, carrying the King and Queen across the English Channel to France, is seen below. Numerous destroyers and cruisers also provided an escort on the sea. This picture was flown across the Atlantic on the pick-a-back plane, Mercury.

Island Blaze Reported Checked as Government Declares Ban on Woods

Closure Order Covers Vancouver Island and Vancouver Forest District—Fires Smouldering Over 100,000 Acres and Settlements Out Of Danger for Moment, Reports State

Lull in Wind Strengthens Hope Worst Is Nearly Over

FACED by continued low humidity which has spread in widening areas over the province, the British Columbia Government closed logging and all use of the woods in the remaining sections of Vancouver Island and in the Vancouver forest district. Premier Pattullo issued the Government's third closure at 5 p.m. yesterday, bringing all of Vancouver Island and a great part of the Coast region under full restrictions of the British Columbia Forest Act.

The order was announced together with the statement that while conditions at the Campbell River fire are still serious, the day had passed without major change in the situation there. The Government was in direct communication with the scene throughout the day, receiving last reports at 5 o'clock last evening. At that hour Bevan, Courtenay and Cumberland were unharmed, and spot fires on the outskirts of the main blaze were under control.

DANGER LESSENS

COURTENAY, July 25 (CP).—The worst forest fire in Vancouver Island's history smouldered over an estimated 100,000 acres tonight, but British Columbia Police here reported "it hasn't moved at all" during the day.

A continued lull in the wind strengthened hopes the huge fire eventually would burn itself out without menacing settlements along its southern and northern flanks. There was still a possibility, how-

Former Austrian Envoy to London Given Knighthood

LONDON, July 25 (AP).—King George has conferred a knighthood on Baron Georg Franckenstein, former Austrian Minister to London, the Court Circular announced tonight. Baron Franckenstein, who represented his country here until its annexation, March 13, by Germany, did not return to Austria after that coup. Remaining in London, he has just become a naturalized British subject.

Munitions Destroyed At Mukden

PEIPING, July 25 (AP).—About $1,000,000 worth of Japanese arms and munitions were destroyed during a series of explosions at an arsenal at Mukden, Manchukuo, on Saturday, it was stated in apparently well-founded reports reaching here today through a censorship.

Mukden was badly shaken by the blasts, which followed a fire at the arsenal, the reports said. Japanese authorities suspected incendiarism, they added.

SET TOURIST RECORD HERE

Figures Show Increase of Foreign Cars Visiting Victoria This Year

An encouraging survey of tourist travel to the City of Victoria during the first six months of this year was given in reports of George I. Warren, commissioner, to the directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau yesterday.

Up until June 30 of this year customs officers at Victoria and Sidney handled 6,910 foreign cars, compared with 3,384 in 1937, for an increase of 83 per cent, and an all-time record. Passengers carried in these cars in 1938 totaled 15,602 and compared with 8,775 in 1937, or an increase of 77.80 per cent, the report stated.

Records also showed that cars from forty-three states, as well as the District of Columbia, have already visited Victoria this year. In June alone 3,606 American cars passed through the Victoria and Sidney customs offices, as compared with 1,642 in June, 1937.

A decided increase in the number of tourists calling at the Information Bureau also was reported to the directors. The increase for the first six months of this year over last was 41.37 per cent. The figures were: 1938, 8,848 calls, and 1937, 6,275 calls.

This percentage has increased considerably during the month of July, since 3,204 persons have visited the office from July 1 to 24, inclusive, in comparison with 1,901 in 1937, a percentage increase of 68.5 per cent.

Wimbledon Murder Suspect Arrested

LONDON, July 25 (AP).—A twenty-seven-year-old truck driver was charged tonight with the murder of Mrs. Rose Muriel (Irish Rose) Atkins, whose clubbed and slashed body was found near Wimbledon's famed centre tennis court July 13.

George Brain was captured today on the Isle of Sheppey, near the mouth of the Thames, when campers reported the movements of a man loitering nearby.

YORK IN PORT FOR NAVY WEEK

British Cruiser to Be Open For Inspection Wednesday Afternoon

H.M.S. York, flagship of Vice-Admiral Sir Sidney Julius Meyrick, commander-in-chief of the America and West Indies Station, tied up beside the new Esquimalt Drydock from Prince Rupert via Campbell River, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning to usher in Navy Week.

Public inspection of the 575-foot British cruiser will be permitted from 3 to 6 o'clock on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The York will remain at Esquimalt until August 8, when she is scheduled to depart for Vancouver via Cowichan Bay.

Lieut.-Commander E. C. Hart was first aboard the York when the gangplank was lowered. He carried the greetings of Commander C. T. Beard, R.C.N., senior naval officer. Commander Beard later called with Commander J. E. W. Oland, Brigadier J. C. Stewart, District Officer Commanding Military District No. 11, was next aboard, followed by Mayor Andrew McGavin and Alderman W. H. Davies. Premier T. D. Pattullo and Hon. John Hart called next. His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber called at 11 o'clock. Admiral Meyrick left ten minutes later to return the official calls.

A salute of seventeen guns boomed forth from the York as the Lieu-

PLANE KILLS OVER FORTY

Many in Grave Condition As Result of Crash When Stunting

BOGOTA, Colombia, July 25 (AP).—Eight additional deaths today brought to forty-two the number of victims of a stunting military plane which crashed yesterday into a crowd of 50,000 watching a military review.

Many of the remaining 142 persons injured by the hurtling, flame-enveloped plane were reported in grave condition. The injured were visited during the day by President Alfonso Lopez, who escaped unhurt. The stand he occupied was struck by the plane.

The Government announced it would pay burial expenses for the dead and medical expenses for those injured.

Identifications were difficult, however, and saddened crowds waited through the night before hospital doors where 150 injured were taken.

SUDDEN SIDE-SLIP

Heads of some victims were severed by propellers of the plane, which speeded at ninety feet above the new military field, Camp De Marte, side-slipped suddenly and dropped into the crowd.

The plane tore steps from the reviewing stand occupied by President Alfonso Lopez, President-Elect Eduardo Santos, War Minister Pum-

TWO DEAD FROM GASES IN WELL

Father and Son Perish in Ninety-Foot Shaft at Cloverdale

CLOVERDALE, July 25 (CP).—The bodies of Thomas Graham and his seventeen-year-old son, Fred, were removed today from a gas-filled well in which they had been trapped for six hours.

The two were believed to have suffocated in gases which prevented rescue parties from going below for more than three hours.

Neil Johnson, a neighbor, was lowered by rope into the shaft during early rescue attempts, but he was dazed, either by gas or by some other injury, when he was brought to the surface.

NINETY FEET DEEP

Persons who had attempted the rescue believed the boy had been overcome by gas while working about eighteen feet below the surface in the ninety-foot well and fell to the bottom. They believed the father was overcome later when he entered the shaft in an attempt to rescue the boy.

Two brothers of Fred, who were on the surface when the father dropped to the bottom, then notified police and an inhalator crew was rushed to the scene. Rescue attempts were delayed while those on the surface awaited arrival of gas masks from New Westminster, fifteen miles west of here.

The two were attempting to widen and deepen the well when the accident occurred. Gases which overcame them were believed to be of the deadly methane or marsh type.

LOOKING FROM TRAIN SEES MISSING SON

WENATCHEE, Wash., July 25 (AP).—As his train rolled into town this afternoon, Conductor W. A. Mills, of Seattle, saw his missing son on the Columbia River Bridge.

Mills telephoned police to find and hold the boy, who ran away from home this Spring.

Later tonight officers detained Robert Mills, the son. He is being held for his father.

TAMPERING WITH THE WATER LINE

Nanaimo City Council Hears of Damage Done in Various Places by Vandals

NANAIMO, July 25.—Damage on the waterworks pipe line is causing the city fathers anxiety. In his report to the City Council Monday night, A. G. G. Graham, city engineer, said an axe head had been driven into the top of an exposed wood stave pipe on the main supply line, and from water spouting from the leak, fire fighters at Extension Summit had been supplied.

In the Tea Swamp area there is one valve being repeatedly tampered with. At other places along the line, where the wood stave pipe is exposed, holes have been found drilled. Readings show that with one million gallons entering the reservoir, the water level is just maintaining its level.

Alderman Drake, chairman of the waterworks committee, regretted it was not possible to lay hands on the perpetrators of vandalism who were threatening the supply of Nanaimo's 10,000 inhabitants.

IS BECOMING KEY FIGURE

Runciman Chosen to Go to Praha to Aid in Settling Dispute

(Copyright, 1938, by Havas News Agency)

LONDON, July 25 (CP).—Viscount Runciman, former Cabinet Minister as President of the Board of Trade, tonight was apparently about to emerge from comparative obscurity into the role of a key figure in Europe's troubled affairs.

It was learned on good authority that London, Paris and Berlin were agreed Lord Runciman should go to Praha to aid in settling the dispute between the Czechoslovak Government and the pro-Nazi Sudeten German Party.

ENDORSE APPOINTMENT

(In Praha it was learned that the Czechoslovak Government has endorsed appointment of Lord Runciman as an adviser in the negotiations with the Sudeten Germans.)

When a Cabinet Minister he was Walter Runciman, National Liberal Member of Parliament. He left public office in May, 1937.

Lord Runciman's mission, it was reliably reported, will be described as "private"—even though it would have been preceded by official conversations—in order not to imply British interference in Central European affairs.

WILL ERECT CAIRN

NANAIMO, July 25.—Nanaimo Pioneers' Association tonight were given a site near Nanaimo Fire Hall to be dedicated to the early pioneers of this district, on which a cairn will be erected by the local association.

Japanese Forces Capture Kiukiang On Yangtze River

Important River Port Falls to Invaders After Long Battle—Now 135 Miles Down Stream From Hankow, Provisional Chinese Capital—Civilians Are Fleeing Into the Hills

SHANGHAI, July 26 (AP).—Japanese military spokesmen announced today their forces had occupied Kiukiang, Yangtze River port 135 miles down stream from Hankow, the Chinese provisional capital.

The Japanese army took unopposed control of the city, the spokesmen said, when Chinese defences crumbled and the army of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek began retreating to the west and southwest.

The fall of the important port marked the breaking of the principal line of Chinese defence in the Yangtze Valley, Japanese claimed, and opened the way to Hankow.

Japanese naval officers added their fleet of war vessels simultaneously advanced up the mine-strewn river and began shelling the retreating Chinese.

Air forces likewise joined in the attack upon the withdrawing army.

Japanese have hammered at the defences of Kiukiang since the fall of Kukow, fifteen miles downriver, July 5. Foreign properties, including Standard Oil waterfront prop-

SALVAGE COINS OF OLD WRECK

Treasure of Frigate Lutine Being Raised for Lloyd's Underwriters

AMSTERDAM, July 25 (AP).—The British frigate Lutine yielded a number of Spanish coins today to salvagers seeking her rich treasure of gold and silver.

The Lutine was wrecked in 1799 at the entrance to the Zuider Zee, while en route to Hamburg. The fortune she carried never has been accurately estimated, but has been placed in the neighborhood of $10,000,000.

The coins were brought to the surface by the Netherlands dredger Karimata, which has undertaken the salvage operations for Lloyd's, the London insurance corporation which paid the insurance when the Lutine sank.

They were believed to have belonged to the frigate passengers, indicating the dredger was working over the fore-part of the vessel. The actual treasure chamber was believed to be in the after-part.

The Lutine sank in a gale while carrying a huge sum to Hamburg to save the credit of British merchants during a financial crisis. Since then, some $275,000 has been recovered.

WINNIPEG RESIDENT KILLED IN ACCIDENT

HUDSON, Wis., July 25 (AP).—An automobile accident west of here tonight claimed the life of one Winnipeg resident and resulted in injuries to three others, also residents of the Manitoba capital.

Reginald J. Mitchell, twenty-four, died four hours after being admitted to hospital. Injured were: Miss Ann Rosenberg, seventeen; Miss Ida Rosenberg, twenty-one, and Mrs. Alexander Kowchuk, twenty-seven.

CALLING SESSION TO HEAR DEMANDS

Czechoslovakian Parliament Summoned to Meet on August 2 to Study Minority Question

PRAHA, July 25 (AP). — Premier Milan Hodza today summoned Parliament to meet on August 2 for a session at which the Government's nationalities statute will be submitted in an effort to appease German party and other minorities.

The statute will not be considered immediately, however, as various other measures on the calendar have the right of way.

The date on which the measure will be laid before the lawmakers depends on progress of inter-party consultations and on negotiations with Konrad Henlein's Sudeten German party, the most persistent of the nation's autonomy-demanding factions.

HOT IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, July 25 (CP).—Vancouver sweltered today as the temperature climbed to 88 degrees, just a few points below the highest mark ever recorded in Vancouver for the month. The high came between 3 and 4 p.m. It was the highest since August, 1933. Vancouver's record high—92.4 degrees—was recorded in June, 1925.

The same report stated 200 Soviet pilots and engineers have also reached the provisional Chinese capital.

LOYALISTS SMASH INTO INSURGENT TERRITORY

BARCELONA, July 25 (AP).—Government armies on the Catalan front, in Northern Spain, crossed the Ebro River today and smashed forward in a surprise offensive into insurgent territory. At 5 a.m. the first Government forces crossed the 100-yard wide stream that has been a barrier between the Northeastern Government army and Insurgent Spain for the last three months. Tonight, the Government commanders said they had advanced without casualties.

NEW HAZARDS IN NEIGHBOR STATES

Potentially Dangerous Bush Fires Reported in Washington And Oregon

SEATTLE, July 25 (AP).—An 80,000-acre brush and grass fire in Central Oregon and a potentially dangerous blaze in Washington's heavily-timbered Olympic Peninsula provided new hazards tonight in the sun-scorched Pacific Northwest.

While reports of improved conditions in some areas coincided with forecasts of cooler weather, the Central Oregon fire destroyed an estimated four sections of timberland and threatened rich pine and wheat lands near Bend, on the eastern side of the Cascades.

The National Forest Service reported 550 men were fighting the Olympic Peninsula fire, about five miles west of Lake Crescent, which had burned 700 to 800 acres.

ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT FAILS

Governor of Puerto Rico Is Attacked—Two Killed, Thirty-One Wounded

PONCE, Puerto Rico, July 25 (AP).—More than a dozen shots were fired at Major-General Blanton Winship, Governor of Puerto Rico, in an attempt to assassinate him today while he was reviewing a parade celebrating American occupation of the island.

Governor Winship was not hurt, although the attack precipitated a shooting affray in which two Puerto Ricans were killed and at least thirty-one wounded, including three women.

Police said one of the men killed, Angel Esteban Antongiorgi, was among the Governor's attackers. They described him as a member of the Nationalist party, a group demanding Puerto Rico be made independent of the United States.

BLAMES NATIONALISTS

District Attorney G. S. Pieriuissi, in charge of the investigation, said five Nationalists took part in the attack and that only one escaped.

The second fatality was Colonel Luis Irizarry, of the Puerto Rican National Guard. The wounded included Miguel Angel Garcia Mendez, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Francisco Lopez Dominguez, Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce. None of the Governor's official party was seriously hurt.

Governor Winship's only comment, made to those standing beside him, was: "What poor shots they are!"

Late Check of Fire Front Shows Danger Area Under Control

Unless Winds Rekindle Flames on North Island It Is Conceded Worst of Blaze Is Over—Survey of Zone Has Been Completed

By FRANK M. KELLEY

COURTENAY, July 25.—Vancouver Island's biggest forest fire was under control tonight as far as it was humanly possible to ascertain from a hurried survey just concluded along the entire eastern front between Courtenay and Echo Lake, which lies beyond Lower Campbell Lake.

Providing the wind does not upset calculations it is reasonable to assume that the gravest danger is over. This information was obtained from the Elk River Company headquarters.

Frank Pennington, the camp's master mechanic, said that every bit of logging equipment has been brought into the camp and he thought that the crew could hold any fire. At the same time he stated that they feared strong southeasterly winds, in which case the sparks of the fire, the Elk River crew are now fighting on the eastern side, might spread into an old-slashed-over area on the westerly end of the logging operations and reach the company's standing green timber about seven miles away.

PUMPS IN ACTION

The crew of the Elk River camp has been fighting the fire for the past ten days and many pumps are being employed to spray water on the buildings and camp equipment.

Many hair-raising stories are told of the efforts being made by these crews to check the fire.

East of the camp, logging engines are running along the edge of one of the fiercest fronts of the blaze, and their job has been to prevent the inferno from crossing the tracks and spreading to the timber on the far side. Lack of wind has aided their efforts to date, but a breeze may easily fan the blaze out of control again.

HEAT IS INTENSE

Engineer Andrew Teck's job is no sinecure. The windows of his camp cracked today under the intense heat and the paint on the walls of his cabin is dropping off in blistered flakes. Pennington states that any man in the camp would be just as eager to keep the fire back as the engineer, and cited the case of the men operating the railway tank cars who are exposed to the full force of the withering heat in their job of spraying the burning trees at the edge of the track.

Coming into Courtenay tonight we passed through a stretch near Oyster River where the fire has run down to the Campbell River Road, and burned across the highway to wipe out the area down to the edge of the salt water. More than 125 square miles have been devastated to date, officials here estimate.

COMOX CAMP SAFE

Hearing rumors of a fresh blaze at the site of the Comox Logging Company, we went through the heavily smoked-over area to trace the trouble, but found everything at the camp under control. In the meantime most of the residents along the Campbell River Road have been brought into Courtenay, this job being efficiently carried out by Royal Canadian bluejackets, whose work up here has won praise from C. J. Haddon, district forrester in charge of the fire situation.

At Bevan, the nearest point to the burning area on the other end, trucks and trains are ready to evacuate more residents. The situation there depends entirely upon the wind. Anything may happen if it blows in certain directions, officials said. Including foresters, loggers, bluejeckets and outsiders, there are over 1,500 men battling the blaze today.

MILITIA HOLDS FINAL CONCERT

Gay Programme Marks Last Night Under Canvas for Battalions at Sidney

Military drills and manoeuvres forgotten, more than 1,000 officers and men from all the militia units that encamped at Sidney last week enjoyed a mammoth farewell concert Saturday night, preparatory to breaking camp for another year. In addition to talent selected from the rank and file of the various companies, a list of guest entertainers was also greeted with a tremendous ovation.

The district camp concert was sponsored by the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, and was under the patronage of Brigadier J. C. Stewart, D.S.O., district officer commanding M.D. No. 11.

GALES OF LAUGHTER

Ranging in variety from tap dancing to comically-burlesqued skits, the entertainers kept the men of the British Columbia Regiment (Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles), the Rocky Mountain Rangers, the Irish Fusiliers (Vancouver and New Westminster Regiment), the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada and the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, in gales of laughter from the beginning to the end of the programme.

The programme was as follows: Rocky Mountain Rangers Band, opening selection; Thomas Obee, comic song; Miss Betti Claire and pupils, tap and ballet dancing; C.S.M. Inglis, trumpet solo; C.Q.M.S. E. Chalmers, monologues; Piper Macbeth, hornpipe; R.S.M. Robertson, remarks; Rifleman Brooks, guitar and song; Sgt. James, comic song.

Pte. Hines, song; Lance-Cpl. Creedon, song, Rocky Mountain Rangers, harmony singers; Sgt. Docker, song; Sgt. Bundock, skit; Bugle-Major Hadley, song; Cpl. Fortin, song; and Thomas Obee and Sgt. James, comedy duet.

Sergeant James, of the First Battalion, Canadian Scottish, was master of ceremonies, and he was ably aided by the chairman, Lieut. A. E. Stewart, and the following committee: Second-Lieut. W. H. Gibson, C.Q.M.S. E. Chalmers and Harrison, and Sergeants Weatherill and James. C.S.M. Guyton acted as stage manager and electrician, while G. Schofield was the concert pianist. Details of staging were handled by C.S.M. G. Heale and C.Q.M.S. Hall, while Sgt. Allen attended to the clerical end of the affair.

Schools Now Being Armed By Mexicans

MEXICO CITY, July 25 (AP).—Mexican regional schools, whose Socialistic educational programme has invited attacks by armed rural bands, received Government authority today to install arms.

The Union of Rural School Teachers announced the War Department had agreed to furnish fifty rifles or pistols and 5,000 rounds of ammunition to thirty-three schools.

A recent count showed twenty-five teachers had been killed this year and others tortured or kidnapped.

JAPANESE FORCES CAPTURE KIUKIANG

erty, was damaged during the bombardments and defence activities of the Chinese.

Many foreigners, including fifty Americans, had departed to Kuling, the mountain resort fourteen miles southeast of Kiukiang.

Chinese commanders, including fifty Americans, had departed to Kuling, the mountain resort fourteen miles southeast of Kiukiang.

Two days' rain delayed the Japanese entry into the city, Japanese said, but clearing skies yesterday permitted their airmen to dominate the air and quickly shattered resistance.

CAVALRY IN ATTACK

Earlier, foreign sources reported the invaders' cavalry vanguard fought to a point within three miles southeast of the river port, 135 miles from Hankow, and immediate objective in the campaign to take the Chinese provisional capital.

Japanese airplanes and warships at the same time bombed and shelled Kiukiang's defences ceaselessly.

As the rumble of gunfire carried into Kiukiang, most of the civilians who remained hurriedly climbed into the hills with whatever possessions they could carry.

Japanese spokesmen remained silent on the progress of the offensive, but a Chinese spokesman admitted the invaders had landed one division at Kutang which, he said, was engaged in severe fighting in an effort to reach Kiukiang.

BRITISH SHIPS NEAR

HANKOW, July 25 (AP).—The British gunboat Cockchafer, the United States gunboat Monocacy and two commercial craft were close to shellfire and aerial bombardment today as eight Japanese warships steamed up the Yangtze River past the Kiukiang waterfront and anchored 1,500 yards downstream from them.

The three torpedo boats and five gunboats began an intensive bombardment of Chinese shore positions southwest of Kiukiang, while Japanese airplanes kept up a heavy bombing of troops' concentrations on the north bank about a mile from the British and United States craft.

Below the Japanese ships engaging in the bombardment larger Japanese warships were sighted.

The Cockchafer and Monocacy were about three miles upstream from Kiukiang.

REPORT ISLAND FIRES CHECKED

ever, a brisk wind might whip the flames into action again.

PROTECTING BEVAN

Bevan, a coal-mining village of 300, was nearest to the motionless fire, but work crews took advantage of the lull to complete a fire break for protection.

Even on the west, where flames had been licking through virgin timber toward the Forbidden Plateau, all was reported quiet.

Forestry officials maintained a watchful guard in continued dry weather. The Vancouver forestry district, including Vancouver Island and the Mainland coast of British Columbia as far north as Seymour Inlet, was closed to logging operations until further notice.

MAINLAND EASIER

VANCOUVER, July 25 (CP).—Firefighters continued their efforts to combat widely scattered blazes on the British Columbia southern coast today as dry, hot weather continued.

Early today the Kanaka Creek fire near Haney in the Fraser Valley "blew up," but quick action on the part of a twenty-man crew held it in check.

A new fire burned out a bridge of the Canadian National Railways about ten miles west of Boston Bar over the week-end and caused trans-continental trains to be rerouted. Company officials said reconstruction would start immediately.

A bush fire near Barnett, eight miles east of here, and peat fires in nearby South Burnaby were reported under control.

WILD LIFE SUFFERS

COURTENAY, July 25 (CP).—Wild life has gone from this section of Vancouver Island, once famed throughout the continent for its deer and grouse. Game has been destroyed wantonly in the vast furnace from Menzies Bay in the north to Courtenay in the south.

Anything like an accurate estimate of the loss is impossible, but, according to Game Warden Barnett Harvey, of this district, the situation will probably call for a closed season of undetermined length.

TRANSIENT INJURED

KAMLOOPS, B.C., July 25 (CP).—Mike Manion, a nineteen-year-old transient, believed to be from Swift Current, Sask., was in hospital today with head injuries suffered, police said, when he attempted to board a passenger train here. His conditions was reported as "fair."

MONTREAL, July 25 (CP).—Gross earnings in June of East Kootenay Power Company, Limited, were reported today at $47,696, against $45,491 a year ago. Heavier operating expenses resulted in a decline of $1,276 in net earnings, which amounted to $31,198, compared with $2,474.

Conservative Leader Gets Big Welcome on Arrival in Home City

Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion Greeted by Thousands at Fort William, Ontario, His Constituency for Many Years—Presented With Address

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., July 25 (CP).—With flags, bands and cheers and an address of welcome from the mayor, Fort William citizens turned out in thousands tonight to greet the new leader of the national Conservative party, Hon. R. J. Manion.

It was his first appearance in his home city since his elevation to the leadership early this month and the city set out to show its pride.

A guard of honor of some 200 members of the Canadian Legion lined the station platform in honor of a fellow legionnaire and war veteran. The veterans led the parade which escorted Dr. Manion from the station to his hotel, and he rode with the mayor and other civic officials in an open flag-draped car.

"I know the position to which I have been elected is a great honor," said Dr. Manion, replying to the address of welcome, "but it is also a great responsibility. Still greater responsibilities go with the position to which it leads."

ADDRESS PRESENTED

The illuminated address, read by Mayor Chisholm M. Ross, said in part: "The recent honor conferred upon you places you within the ranks of the leaders of our great country upon whose shoulders rest responsibilities of grave magnitude.

"We realize that world conditions are not normal at the present time, but there is a restless urge eminating from all countries and confusing the minds of the people. We in Canada are not immune from the influences of these disturbing factors and we look to our great leaders to confine their every effort to find a way of establishing that sense of security in the minds of our people, that makes for peace and harmony, not only within our own borders but in our relationships with all other countries.

DUTIES OF LEADER

"So tonight while the citizens have gathered to honor you upon your return home and mark the occasion with festivities, they are not unmindful of the arduous duties that lie before you.

"They feel, however, that nature has endowed you with those qualities of leadership, necessary to meet the demands of the high office to which you have been elected."

On reaching his hotel, Dr. Manion held an informal reception and his old friends and fellow-citizens crowded in to shake his hand. Fellow war veterans, old schoolmates, teammates on hockey and lacrosse teams of thirty-five years ago came to say "Hello, Bob," and wish him luck.

CLAIM MAIL IS ARRIVING LATE

Publicity Bureau Directors Protest Over Tardy Delivery From Seattle

Representations have been made to George H. Gardiner, Victoria postmaster, and Karllee Branch, second assistant postmaster-general at Washington, D.C., over the tardy arrival of the Seattle mail in this city, the board of directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau was told yesterday.

In a communication to Mr. Gardiner, George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, wrote as follows under date of July 22: "Yesterday and today the mail leaving Seattle at midnight for Victoria has not been delivered to this bureau until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, with the mail that left Seattle by the Canadian Pacific Railway boat at 9 a.m. Similar delays have occurred two or three times during the past two weeks."

On a previous occasion the bureau appealed to Washington over the loss by the Black Ball Line of the mail contract between Victoria and Seattle, pointing out that it would probably mean the dissolution of this company's ferry service between the two cities during the Winter months.

LAUNCH CARRIES MAIL

Mr. Warren told the directors that the mail service between Puget Sound and Victoria is being carried on by a launch.

Official notification of the application of the United States' Government act necessitating tourists to remain in Canada forty-eight hours before being allowed to return with goods up to the value of $100 duty free has been given all Victoria merchants, the commissioner reported.

Reports of contact trips made by Phil Raymond, of the local office, and Ivan Beecroft and Oliver Hollingsworth were given. Mr. Raymond traveled 4,018 miles in making 641 contacts and distributing 35,000 pieces of literature. He went to Los Angeles via Highway 99 and returned by Highway 101.

SAYS TRAVEL INCREASING

Mr. Raymond also visited Spokane with Mr. Hollingsworth and distributed 10,000 additional pieces of literature, returning home via U.S. Highway 10. He reported that travel on the Coast is increasing steadily.

Since February 1, Mr. Beecroft traveled 8,000 miles on contact work for the local bureau, going as far south as the Mexican border. He drove 5,500 miles through Washington, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota and the Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, and circled the Olympic Peninsula. He commenced work at Blaine this week, after five months of traveling, during which time he distributed 115,000 pieces of literature about Victoria and Vancouver Island, and will contact all tourists crossing the border into Vancouver.

RUSSIA IN PORT FROM FAR ORIENT

Trans-Pacific Liner Encountered Fog for Eight Days of Nine-Day Voyage

Inbound from Manila, Hongkong, Shanghai, Nagasaki, Kobe and Yokohama, R.M.S. Empress of Russia, Capt. J. F. Patrick, arrived at Ritchet Piers at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and left for Vancouver at 2.45 o'clock after disembarking 100 of her 325 passengers and discharging sixty tons of Oriental cargo.

Capt. Patrick reported that the vessel encountered fog for eight days of her nine-day crossing. In fact he declared it was the thickest passage he had ever made across the Pacific Ocean.

Off the coast of Vancouver Island on Sunday the liner ran into forest fire smoke after leaving the fog bank. Passengers did not see land until Sherringham Point hove in sight.

Decrease Shown In Relief Costs For Six Months

Figures issued by the city relief department yesterday showed that the total cost of relief in Victoria for the first half of 1938 was $114,-518, of which the city contributed $61,863 and the Provincial Government $52,658. A readjustment, retroactive to March 1, is to be made by the Provincial Government, however, by which it will pay 40 per cent of the cost of relief to unemployables, instead of placing the whole burden of this relief on the city.

The figures show a decrease of $52,859 in the total cost of relief for the first six months of the year, as compared with the corresponding period last year, when the city paid $45,852, and the Provincial Government $121,551.

The total for June also showed a considerable decrease, the figure being $16,977, as compared with $23,-225 for June, 1937. In June of this year, assistance was given to 456 families and 387 single persons, as against 671 families and 433 single persons in June, 1937.

SHIFTED CAR TO REMOVE MARKS

Legality of Common Practice Among Motorists Questioned in Court

Whether or not the practice, common among motorists, of moving cars a few feet backwards or forwards in order to obliterate the red marks placed on tires by police officers as a check on parking times, constituted on evasion of the parking law, was questioned by Magistrate Henry C. Hall, K.C., in the city police court yesterday.

A motorist who pleaded not guilty to a charge of parking for longer than an hour in the restricted area, told the court that he first parked his car at about 2 p.m., and between that time and 5 p.m., moved the vehicle three times, once into a position one car length away, and twice moving it a few feet.

The magistrate remarked that though the practice was a very common one in the city, no case of this nature had previously been brought before him for decision. The question was whether such a practice was a successful evasion of the by-law, and he intended to give careful consideration to the by-law before announcing a decision.

The case was remanded until tomorrow morning.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

AUSTRALIA'S DEFENCE PLANS

Australia continues to base her naval, military and aerial defensive policy on co-operation with Great Britain, with New Zealand as well, and is willing to base it in the same way with the Empire as a whole. Moreover, it is the opinion in the Commonwealth that because of world conditions the plans for defence must be organized on a scale commensurate with the danger that threatens. The Sydney Morning Herald praises the Government for what it is doing, says it is putting first things first, and is recognizing the crisis "by the revised and greatly-extended defence programme recently initiated." It is realized that "in modern warfare men have scant value without armaments and equipment, and it is, therefore, good policy to concentrate at this juncture largely upon the satisfaction of those needs." The Herald then says what illustrates the seriousness of its outlook on the need of having the best direction of defensive policy:

"The value would be enhanced were the Government to go further than it has yet done in reorganizing the administration of contemplated services behind the defence arms. There used to be a second full Minister (for the Navy) till 1921. It seems inevitable that before long there will have to be a Minister for Air Services; but, in addition, there is a strong case for a Minister for Co-ordination—a member of the Cabinet who will direct and control the operations of the national committees the Prime Minister has announced—the committees for registering and organizing shipping, land transport and railways, medical and hospital supplies and services, and our industrial and man-power (personal services) resources."

U.S. BUDGET DEFICITS

The Federal Treasury Department of the United States shows a deficit in its budget of the last twelve months of approximately $1,400,000,000. What has been called a business recession has led to reduced treasury receipts. Six months ago President Roosevelt gave an estimate of receipts of $5,919,400,000 for the present fiscal year. This has now been revised to a figure of $5,000,270,000. At the same time a new pump-priming policy has gone into force, which means the expenditure during the current fiscal year will be $8,985,157,600, which is upwards of two billions more than the original estimate of expenditure of $6,869,000,000. President Roosevelt was first of the opinion that something could be shaved off the annual deficit which the country is experiencing; in fact had expressed the viewpoint that it could be kept under $1,000,000,000 for the current year. Instead, the new pump-priming policy, together with a reduction in the anticipated revenue, will mean that the forthcoming deficit may easily reach $4,000,000,000.

It has been predicted that the fiscal year 1938-1939 in the United States "will be the best year since 1931"; in other words, a really substantial pick-up in business is anticipated. This is partly due to a belief in better world conditions, but mainly because of the great impetus given to pump-priming expenditures. There is a certain alarm, which has extended to the President himself, over the recurring budget deficits and the consequent rapid rise in the national debt of the country, which now stands at $37,000,000,000. There is a Federal practice by which a certain portion of such debt must be retired each year. This year, for instance, the percentage of such retirement is about $550,000,000, but that cannot not be met save by borrowing afresh. The whole trend of the country's financial policies shows that the people must face new imposts before long, and the President himself believes that "heavier imposts" are possible during "good years." No country can lose altogether the art of balancing budgets. Some day, even to governments, the time comes when obligations must be liquidated.

BLOOD TESTS FOR MOTORISTS

In the campaign for the prevention of road accidents in Great Britain, evidence has been given before the House of Lords Select Committee on the question of taking blood tests to determine the percentage of alcohol in the blood of persons accused of driving motor cars while under the influence of drink. Mr. W. McAdam Eccles, honorary consulting surgeon to St. Bartholomew's Hospital, says that for the purpose of such a test a withdrawal of one or two drops of blood from a finger or ear is necessary. He admits that it is not always poossible to give impartial testimony on clinical symptoms, but blood test evidence can be given by an expert without his having any knowledge of the circumstances of the case. The test does not determine the amount of alcohol imbibed. It gives the actual percentage circulating in the blood. Alcohol only affects the brain when it reaches the blood stream.

Mr. Eccles, moreover, points out that while anyone is generally able to say when a person is drunk, it requires a careful examination to determine when a person is under the influence of liquor to such an extent to be incapable of proper control of a vehicle. The blood test is of little value for border-line cases. Mr. Eccles then says: "Half a drop of alcohol in one hundred drops of blood—0.5 per cent—would render a person comatose, dead drunk, and, in many cases, near to death itself. Anyone who had a blood alcoholic content of 0.1 per cent is under the influence of alcohol, but it would not be wise to say that everyone under that amount of influence is really incapable of proper control. All authorities and investigators are agreed that everyone with 0.15 per cent of alcohol circulating in the blood is incapable of proper control of a vehicle." It appears that an overdose of insulin may have some of the symptoms similar to those due to alcohol. As matters stand, public opinion is averse to the blood test. Mr. Eccles, however, believes that public opinion will eventually become so strong in its determination to save life that the blood test will be made compulsory.

EVERYDAY PEDESTRIANS

The housewife who is such in deed as well as in name gets all the exercise she requires. The Americans, with their flair for statistics, have discovered this. The exercise grows out of the housewife's daily duties, for if she does her work properly every year she traverses a distance equal to that from Boston to San Francisco, a distance of 3,000 miles. She does this largely in ignorance that she is getting any real walking exercise at all, but it is one of the factors that keeps the housewife fit; that makes her pleasantly, sometimes unpleasantly tired, at the end of her day's work; that makes her upon occasion as crotchetty as the golfer who has overdone his day's exercise. The golfer, also according to American research work, covers eight and a half miles in doing eighteen holes, and few, if any, of his lik would dream of such an exertion were it not for the fascination of the game.

Then there is the case of the dancer in a theatre who registers a mile an act; a chorus girl who covers four and a half miles a day on the stage; a doctor in a hospital who walks eighteen miles daily, whereas all doctors are supposed to do most of their exercise in motor cars. As to postmen, they walk twenty-two miles a day, while the policeman, who saunters more than walks, covers fourteen miles daily. Everyone, except individuals who are restricted to sedentary pursuits, does more or less walking exercise every day, and the housewife seems to do rather more than the average. The idea she does not get enough exercise is an exploded one. Her comings and goings upon the most necessary of all lawful occasions are what have led to the trite saying that "a woman's work is never done."

Alberta, according to the Provincial Secretary, Mr. E. C. Manning, is to know her fate this year—"the die will be cast one way or the other." What he means is that Social Credit will either succeed or fail. He now predicts that the Alberta Government will begin in a small way to issue Social Credit dividends, and the initial issue "will be restricted to the purchase of Alberta-made goods." Presumably, therefore, there is to be another session of the Alberta Legislature very shortly to devise the Social Credit payments. At least the Members of that Legislature will receive extra dividends in the way of sessional indemnities.

It seems to be somewhat of a difficult matter to secure accurate information on the effects in China of the Japanese occupation. Estimates of the number of refugees reach as high as 60,000,000. The Shanghai correspondent of The London Times places the number at 1,000,000, though that number does not include those who have fallen victims to famine, flood and disease. It is almost impossible to believe, however, that as many as 60,000,000 persons are refugees in China.

BEYOND KASHMIR

Among the Himalayan Hills
The mountain stream comes tumbling,
And in and out among the rocks
It hurries fierce and grumbling,
Till spent and seeking rest it cools
Itself in deep and tranquil pools.

Nearby this place we pitch our camp
And sally forth with spoon or fly
To woo those brown and lovely trout
So stout of heart, so loth to die,
And in the dusk we gently drown
Gay Jack Scot or meek March Brown.

With bated breath we wait and then
The rod is bent. The line has run,
So full of fight but weakening now,
Reel gently in. His day is done.
Was ever such a perfect food?
The pinky flesh so firm and good.

And so to bed on golden straw.
Snow-capped hills against the sky,
The stream now tranquil, hushed, serene,
Crooning its endless lullaby.
The sky so pierced with stars, that we See in the dark—Eternity.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Dreams are significant, don't you think? At any rate, I thought it odd to find a typewriter sitting squarely on my chest last night. As I recall now I had gone to bed late, after reading the last of Dante's masterpiece, in 445 pages of very small type. It had taken me a month to read it, and my head was buzzing more than a little. That may account, in part, for what followed.

* * *

"Hold still," said the typewriter crossly, rapping me smartly over the knuckles with its carriage as I tried to take it off my chest. There wasn't even a warning bell. I tried again to shift it, but it pinched my thumb with its spacing bar. I lay still for a moment, thinking. "There now, we may proceed," said the typewriter, rattling its carriage smartly back to start a new line.

* * *

Interested in spite of myself, I lay still and watched. There was a piece of foolscap in the machine, across which the carriage was traveling of its own accord. Typebars were splashing down on the paper in the regular sequence that I recognized as the touch system. Beside the machine was a pile of blue-bound public reports; and on the other side near the edge of the counterpane, a disorderly pile of small pieces of paper with scrawled pencil notes. It looked so much like work that I stirred uneasily.

"None of that now?" warned the typewriter, waving a metal flipper at me. Without any physical agency that I could detect, the reports beside the machine were being lifted and sorted methodically; to the accompaniment of a running fire of comment by the typewriter. It sounded something like this: "The coal commission, we've done that. The Fall session, we've done that. The royal commission on interprovincial and other relations, that's over. The Siege of Victoria, that's over. The entrance results and matric results, both done. The Campbell River fire——".

I groaned. The typewriter danced on me in a rage. Deliberately, it bounced up and down on my chest, and very nearly put one felt-padded foot into my mouth. Aloud, it recommenced: "The coal report; the lumber report; the mines report; the half-yearly crop estimate; relief of the unemployed; relief of the municipalities; road tenders, bridge tenders, ferry tenders; statement by the Honorable the Minister of ——,"

* * *

With a shout, I sat up. That was too much. Flesh and blood could not stand it. Why, if it went into ministerial statements, there were nine ministers, nine deputy ministers, twenty-seven acting-assistant-deputy ministers; to say nothing of the general offices, the coal board, the health board, the insurance board, the liquor board, the publicity bureau. Enough was enough!

"Stop it!" I commanded. "Not another word—not a solitary syllable more. I won't have it!" I thrust out my arms and seized the ill-favored machine. I remember shaking it as a dog would a rat, and heaving it from me with a super-human effort. Even as it was falling through the air, I seemed to be following it. I could hear the keys tap-tap-tapping away without stopping, and see the carriage moving evenly along towards the end of the line.

I am not prepared to say positively how far we fell, the typewriter and myself, but it was a long, long way. There was yellow-black smoke and a sulphurous smell at the bottom, in a kind of amphitheatre with a dais flanged by long rows of seats. I had hardly time to make this out, when a man in a tuxedo arose, cleared his throat self-consciously, and began to speak. "We will now have the president's report," he began. In terror, I seized the typewriter, and bolted.

* * *

I might just as well have stayed where I was. My flight brought me into another dark hall, where I arrived in time to hear a short, squat man, with curling mustaches and a sharp glint in his eye, say: "My lords, you will understand in this brief the municipalities do not wish to embarrass anybody, but——." Again I fled, and this time the typewriter, to which I seemed to be closely attached, beat me to the doorway and out. I wasn't far behind, though.

* * *

The third hall was better lighted. It had all the appearances of a social function, of a club luncheon. A debonair man, with the build of a wrestler and a breezy manner, was rising to his feet as we got in. "Aha," he said, "I see we have The Press with us. We will now hear from Delegate Thornbottom. Delegate Thornbottom, as you know, has just returned from Podunk, where he attended the nineteenth annual congress of the international order of——." I beat the typewriter through the door, by a head.

Obviously the fourth room was a parliament of sorts. There was Mr. Speaker in his tricornered hat. There was the sergeant-at-arms, in all of his dignity. There were the benches on the right of Mr. Speaker. There were the benches on the left of Mr. Speaker. Three honorable members were on their feet. Yes, it was a parliament, all right. Again we fled.

* * *

By this time I was winded, and getting more than a little cross. After all, if the typewriter had not jumped on my chest, I would have been sound asleep by then, and none of this would have happened. I told the machine as much. "It's all your fault," I said. (We were back in the bedroom again). The machine just glowered at me, rattling its shift-key suggestively. Maddened, I seized it and was about to throw it through the window, when it spoke.

* * *

"Naughty, naughty," it said succintly. "If you will read Dante at midnight, don't blame me for it! Besides, you have a column to write yet—you may need me!" Well, there was no answer to that. I did have a column to write. The cold, brutal logic of the thing beat me. I put it down, unharmed. Dreams may be significant—but I hate nightmares!

Strange Coincidences

A rather amusing incident dwelling on strange coincidences published fifty years ago might still be worth repeating—There arrived in the port of New York, together, the brigs Sunlight, Starlight and Moonlight. Previous to that time the Rebecca, Lady Rowena and Ivanhoe were all lying in the same berth in San Francisco, and on another occasion the Duchess of Argyle was sailing out of Golden Gate as the Duke of Argyle was sailing in.—S.K.M.

In the Boss' Time

Aubrey observed there has been very little change in billiards during the past twenty-five years. A man still shoots his best game in the boss' time . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, told us he does not know much about baseball, but gathers at a game that everybody is right except the umpire . . . Salesman Horace believes that most of us would be satisfied with very little, as long as it is more than the next man has . . . Broad Street Bertie claims an optimist is a man without money. A pessimist is a man who will not lend you any . . . Our tobacconist friend thinks things are coming his way this year—mostly bills . . . Somebody asked us what we would do if we won $100,000 in a sweepstake. The answer is absolutely nothing . . . Note to the good wife: If women did as they pleased, who would wash the dishes?—G.B.

Diamond Chatter

Hon. John Hart, British Columbia's Minister of Finance, certainly displayed tangible evidence of his interest in baseball by donating the handsome trophy bearing his name. The cup will rest at Port Angeles for the next twelve months, the American ball tossers taking the series Saturday when they split a double-header with Victoria. They won the first game played on their home grounds . . . Russ Murray, genial manager of the visitors, who accepted the trophy for his club, had a big smile all over his face when called upon to receive the silverware . . . Danny McLennan, Port Angeles receiver in the nightcap, came of age Saturday, and celebrated his twenty-first birthday by flying to Victoria. The fans gave "Danny" quite an ovation when they were informed of the important event . . . The Cannibals are coming to town this week, but anxious mothers need not worry about locking the children up. The Cannibals are a touring baseball team and rated as one of baseball's most entertaining shows.—S.T.

Glancing Over Sport

This morning, at 11 o'clock, with many more Victoria fight fans yours truly will board the boat for Seattle to take in the Steele-Hostak world's middleweight championship this evening at the Civic Auditorium. It's Hostak by a knockout inside of ten rounds as far as I am concerned . . . Tonight I will see Billy Buxton fight for the first time since I saw him many years ago at the old Pacific Stadium when he was fighting in the B.C. amateur championships. I will also see Rex Carey boxing for the first time, so will keep a careful eye upon the two Victorians . . . I will be seeing Jack Dempsey for the second time. It was several years ago the former king of the heavies visited Victoria to referee a wrestling match at the Willows. I had the honor of interviewing Dempsey at that time . . . It's about time we had a show-down just how long the soccer bosses-that-be should have the use of the Athletic Park. The City Parks Board should set a time limit for the footballers, say from early September to the last week in April. Right now, or the way they have been going along in recent years, they are interfering with Summer sports and that shouldn't be. How about clarifying the situation before the next football season rolls around, Mr. Adam?—J.D.

An Odd Ballot

Those conducting estimating contests are usually confronted with an assortment of guesses varying from the tens to the tens of thousands, but Junior Chamber of Commerce officials received probably one of the most novel ballots ever deposited in an estimating box when their final contest closed last week. The ballot was a driver's licence. The owner may retrieve the same at the Chamber of Commerce office.—W.I.F.

FIRE DESTROYS DAIRY

NANAIMO, July 25.—Damage totalling $5,000 was done by fire to the Meadow Dairy, situated on the Five Acre Lots, just outside the city limits, and owned by Fred Higginson, this afternoon. The hay barn, silo and dairy were destroyed, partially covered by insurance.

LIONS WELCOMED HERE BY MAYOR

Pittsburgh Party on Good Will Tour, Returning From Oakland Parley, Pays Brief Visit

A party of sixty-four Pittsburgh Lions, returning from the Lions' international convention in Oakland last week, arrived in Victoria from Seattle yesterday morning and received a welcome from Mayor Andrew McGavin and Alderman Burges J. Gadsden, on the lawn of the Empress Hotel.

James F. Bunting, chairman of the Pittsburgh Lions' convention committee, presented Mayor McGavin with the key of the City of Pittsburgh as a good will gesture from Mayor Cornelius Scully, of that city. Queen Standfast and Princess Wunderly, elected from the Pittsburgh group as the two outstanding "Lionesses" of the territory, also were presented to Mayor McGavin by Mr. Bunting.

The Lions, many of whom are accompanied by their wives, are engaged on a good will tour after having been awarded the 1939 Lions international convention. Since leaving Oakland they have traveled through the Pacific Coast cities and left Victoria yesterday afternoon for Seattle on the return journey to Pittsburgh, via Glacier Park, St. Paul and Chicago.

"MISS VICTORIA"

Sir,—I understand that of the considerable sum of money raised by the "Miss Victoria" Contest, a large proportion is to be devoted to staging a day and night parade.

Such a spending of money on an object desired by few at such a time, when the centre of the Island is a mass of flames, reminds one of a similar oft-quoted historic occasion. I venture to suggest that the money so collected should be devoted to form the nucleus of a fund for the assistance of those our fellow-Islanders, whose homes and property have been destroyed.

T. L. THORPE-DOUBBLE.

THE UNEMPLOYED TREK

Sir,—We hope that you will grant us space in your paper in order that we may extend to the people of Victoria our sincere thanks for the generous assistance which they so readily gave to our members who formed part of the recent unemployed trek to Victoria.

Their aid in this matter is greatly appreciated by all our members who realize, that without the help of the people of Victoria (not forgetting the other Island owns en route), we could not have been so successful in our efforts.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

The most ironical thing about bridge is that experts sometimes take a severe licking on hands that an out-and-out novice would bring home without difficulty. The hand shown below is one of these. With every card exposed, the play for the contract is so absurdly easy that I hesitate to present the deal at all, because I realize that I will get countless letters deriding the play of the declarer. I urge readers, however, to bear in mind that the declarer could not know about the singleton jack of clubs in East's hand, and to base their criticism, not on the result, but on each play as it was made.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 NT	Pass	5 NT	Pass
6 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

Undeniably, South's two no trump was a stretch, his five honor tricks being comparatively "bare." I criticize this bid without criticizing South's next bid of six no trump. The fact that he had every ace and, thus, every control, indicated that North's hand must be replete with kings and queens and the slam bid, therefore, offered a good gamble.

Now for the play. West, completely in the dark, chose to open the nine of hearts. Dummy and East ducked and declarer's ten won. There now were in sight eleven top tricks. The twelfth could be gained in any of several different ways: By finding the diamond king in front of the queen; by dropping, or finessing against, the club jack; or, finally, by a squeeze. Declarer attempted to retain as many of these chances as possible. He cashed four heart tricks, discarding his own deuce of diamonds, while East followed suit and West let go a low spade and low diamond. Declarer then entered his hand with the ace of spades, cashed the spade queen, and led a low diamond toward dummy.

When West, without the slightest hesitation, followed with the seven spot, declarer decided that he did not have the king. Therefore, to retain control as far as possible, he put in dummy's nine spot. (So far it is difficult to find fault with any play made by the declarer.) East took the diamond nine with the ten, and returned a spade. Declarer naturally dropped the low diamond. West let go the diamond jack. Now, on the possibility that the diamond king might drop, and, further, to get an absolute count on all suits, declarer led the diamond five to his own ace.

When West discarded a club on this trick his original distribution could be counted exactly. He had been shown to have only three spades, two hearts, and three diamonds, hence must have started with five clubs. Declarer, now in his own hand, with only A-Q-6-5 of clubs left and K-10-9 in dummy, had only one percentage method of playing the hand. Since West had had five clubs and East only one, it was originally five to one that the club jack was with the long suit. Hence, to play to the king and back to the A-Q apparently would be futile. On that assumption declarer led a low club and finessed dummy's nine spot. Came the flood! East won and gobbled up the remaining four tricks!

As I said originally, any dub would have made this hand merely by banging down a high club honor at the start. But I must admit that my sympathy goes out to the beaten declarer.

What Do You Want Most When You Buy a Diamond?

"Brilliance" . . . is the answer of most people. And rightly so, because brilliance is of major consideration in determining the value of a Diamond. A Diamond may be perfect and yet be dull and lifeless. ROSE'S high standards of quality require perfect cutting . . . as well as freedom from flaws . . . as a basis for the finer judgments of color and brilliance that distinguish ROSE'S selection of Diamonds.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the new Esquimalt drydock, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of July 26, 1888)

Arrival of the Aberdeen—Ss. Aberdeen arrived in the Royal Roads at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, was boarded by Pilot Urquhart, and taken to Vancouver. The passage from Yokohama, which occupied fourteen days and seven hours, was uneventful. The passenger list consisted of 600 Chinese and eight whites, none of these being people of note. She carried some 5,000 tons of freight, principally tea. She is said to be a magnificent steamer, and this is her first visit to these waters.

Local Briefs—Salmon are very scarce in the Fraser River . . . The fine family residence, No. 15 North Park Street, is offered for sale . . . A boom of logs containing 400,000 feet, has been towed to Nanaimo by the steamers Lottie and Falcon from Mose Ireland's logging camp . . . The steamer Sir James Douglas was engaged on Saturday night in replacing the spar buoys in the False Narrows between Gabriola and Mudge Islands. The Douglas returned to Victoria on Monday . . . The steamer R. P. Rithet stopped at the Outer Wharf yesterday and landed forty head of cattle, divided equally between John Parker and R. Porter.

Y.M.C.A. Secretary—Mr. Teague, who was partly engaged by the Y.M.C.A. of New Westminster to come from the Boston training home for secretaries, to act as secretary there, has decided that he will not come. It is stated that he has accepted a position as secretary of the Victoria Y.M.C.A.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

TO BRING OUT SLOOP REVERIE

Rev. John Antle Acquires Forty-Eight-Foot Vessel in England

To sail his forty-eight-foot sloop Reverie to Victoria, Rev. John Antle left here for England yesterday afternoon. Mr. Antle is a master mariner, honorary sea chaplain of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, and has been afloat on and off for sixty years. He will board the Ss. Empress of Britain at Quebec.

Built of hardwood at Assam four years ago, the Reverie was taken from Northern India 800 miles by rail to the coast for H. P. Bayly, a tea planter. From there she was shipped to the Thames in England, where she first touched water.

HOUSE TAKEN OVER

Mr. Antle's home at Maple Bay and his thirty-five-foot yacht Pamela have been taken over by Mr. Bayly, who will shortly arrive on the Island.

In November, 1933, Mr. Antle arrived here in the Columbia Coast Mission of the Anglican Church Ms. John Antle, which he brought out from England. He was head of the mission for many years until he retired to live at Maple Bay.

Weather permitting, Mr. Antle plans to leave England aboard his new vessel before the end of August. Alternatively, he will remain in the Old Country until next Spring and cross from St. Malo to the Grand Banks of Newfoundland with the fishing fleet. He announced that he would spend the rest of his life afloat.

Toward the end of next month, the new Canadian destroyers, Ottawa and Restigouche, which will serve at the Esquimalt station on the Pacific Coast, will leave Devonport, England, for Canada. The warships will go direct to their station, via the Panama Canal.

The new vessels will bring Canada's naval strength up to six destroyers, Skeena, Fraser, St. Laurent, Saguenay, Ottawa and Restigouche, and four minesweepers, Comox, Nootka, Gaspe and Fundy. The last-named ship was launched at Collingwood several weeks ago.

Strength on the Pacific will be four destroyers and two minesweepers, with the remainder doing duty on the Atlantic.

The President Jefferson is due August 8 on her last voyage, as the company withdraws from service because of the lack of Government subsidy. The Jackson brought ten passengers, all navy personnel.

In command of Captain Morris Seavey, U.S.N.R., the President Jackson arrived at Rithet Piers on Sunday night from the Philippines, China and Japan. She left for Seattle shortly after midnight after discharging 700 measurement tons of cargo. Ss. President Jefferson is expected here on August 7.

RUPERT DEPARTS WITH FULL LIST

Sam McGee, of Robert Service Poem of Gold Rush Days, Returns to Yukon

VANCOUVER, July 25. — Canadian National boats and trains were busy over the week-end handling the tourist rush to and from the Coast. On Saturday night, Ss. Prince Charles sailed for a cruise of the Queen Charlotte Islands with every berth filled.

This morning, Ss. Prince Rupert brought over 200 passengers into Vancouver from the North, most of them members of the "Know Mississippi Better Tour." Tonight, at 9 o'clock, she left port outbound for Skagway with a capacity list of Alaska tourists.

Sam McGee, whom Robert Service "cremated" in his famous poem of Yukon gold rush days, is on board, en route to White Horse, where he will renew old acquaintances.

Over 1,000 tourists passed through the C.N.R. station, comprising general traffic and numerous excursionists from Prairie points. Eastbound traffic was also heavy.

PLAN TEST TRIPS FOR AIR ROUTE TO ALASKA

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP). — The Pan-American Airways system announced today it would start experimental transport flights on the projected overseas route between Seattle and Juneau, Alaska, beginning August 6.

The first flight will be made by a ten-ton Sikorsky amphibian. The flights will be made by authority of the United States Department of Commerce.

Pioneer of Railway Dies at Vancouver From Heart Attack

VANCOUVER, July 25.—Arthur B. Calder, for nearly fifty years connected with the Canadian Pacific Railway's passenger department, passed away from a heart attack here this morning.

One of his last assignments before he retired from active service was in 1931 when he addressed the Pacific Relations Conference at Honolulu on "Trade Follows Travel."

Mr. Calder was born at Winnipeg in 1867. As a boy he followed construction forces of the Canadian Pacific through the Rockies and Selkirks, and later, in 1890, joined the passenger department, which he served until his retirement. As agent at Seattle and Tacoma in the 90's, he did much "missionary" work for the new line across the Dominion, and later as a special traffic representative he conducted many famous travelers and groups of travelers from abroad through the Dominion. He held positions at Winnipeg and Montreal during his long career.

TRAVEL TO COAST CONTINUES HEAVY

Number of Special Tour Parties Arrive at Mainland — Gulf Service Busy

VANCOUVER, July 25. — Travel over Canadian Pacific lines continues heavy; an estimated 3,500 passengers have been handled into the city during the week-end. A number of United States tour parties scheduled for today, tomorrow and Wednesday will add their numbers to the swelling volume of Prairie tourist who are heading coastwards.

Travel on the British Columbia Coast Service ships was also heavy over the week-end, an estimated 3,500 taking advantage of sailings to and from Nanaimo, Victoria, Newcastle Island, Comox, Seattle and the Gulf Islands.

Tomorrow, 531 United States tourists will be handled in and out over Canadian Pacific Lines in special parties, including two special trains for Banff and Lake Louise, the American Express party of 200, and 138 members of a Happiness Tour.

Further visitors to the city were found in the 300 passengers who arrived at 4 p.m. today on the liner Empress of Russia. On Thursday the Canadian-Australasian liner Aorangi is due at Victoria and Vancouver with 350 passengers, among them twenty-one New Zealand Public School boys who will be spending a month in Western Canada. This is the first movement to Canada of New Zealand schoolboys, and it was arranged by the Overseas Education League. A party of about ten English schoolboys will meet the New Zealand lads at Banff for a fraternal camping meet.

FURNESS LINER IS IN FROM ENGLAND

From Manchester and Liverpool via Quayaquil, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle, the Furness Pacific Line motorship Pacific President docked at Rithet Piers in command of Capt. G. W. A. Newman shortly after 10 o'clock last night and left for Vancouver early this morning.

For this port the vessel had 135 tons of cargo, including seventy tons of citrus fruit and 700 stems of bananas.

Passengers disembarking here were Mrs. J. Serle and Miss L. A. I. Serle, Prospect Lake. Those destined to Vancouver were Mrs. E. Haigh, Miss J. S. M. Hedley, W. H. Jeffrey, Mrs. M. M. Jeffrey, C. H. Taylor and M. E. Taylor.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, July 25 (CP).—Captain P. R. Flynn, skipper of the steamship Anglo-Saxon, which arrived light from England to load full at British Columbia ports for Australia, reported whales and smoke the only unusual sights on his inward voyage.

The whales were "big fellows, spouting," and he said that smoke off Cape Flattery cut visibility to a point where the forecastle head could not be seen from the bridge.

The Royal Canadian Air Force marine station for refueling and supplying seaplanes, formerly stationed at Queen Charlotte Islands, and recently at Jericho Air Station near here, was in drydock today for overhaul.

Halibut sales on Vancouver Fish Exchange over the week-end, were: Arbory, 4,000 chicken at 5.1 cents and 6,000 medium at 7.5 cents.

How Canada's Varied Export Trade Benefits Manufacturers, Retailers, Farmers, Workmen, All of us!

EXPORT orders quicken the whole business life of Canada.

When the farmer gets a good price for his cattle in Chicago or Buffalo, or when the orchardist sells his apples at a profit in London or Rotterdam, or the fox rancher makes money on his furs sold in London or New York, or the fisherman obtains ready markets abroad for his fish, or there is a good demand abroad for Canadian automobiles, then retailers in his community do better business. They employ more help, order more goods from the manufacturer, who in turn employs more help, and the help spend more money. Economists have estimated that an increase of $100 million in exports will in turn increase national income by at least another $100 million with possibilities of increasing up to as high as $350 million. That will give you some idea how important export trade is to the livelihood of our population.

The importance of export trade to Canada and Canadians in all walks of life, is fully recognized by the Dominion Government. The Department of Trade and Commerce maintains a force of experienced Trade Commissioners in every major trading country. These men serve to bridge the gap between the Canadian shipper and the foreign buyer.

Last year these Trade Commissioners dealt with roundly 10,000 inquiries from Canadian exporters and foreign importers. They aided directly in establishing 700 sales agencies for Canadian firms. They helped to secure substantial orders for many kinds of Canadian products, such, for example, as timber orders for shipment to Scotland, mining supplies to South Africa, poultry to England, fish to Colombia and Germany, potatoes to Hong Kong, lumber to the United States.

The success of Canada in opening up so many markets in other lands for Canadian products, both natural and manufactured, has been a remarkable achievement and has earned the respect of the nations of the world. Today Canada is shipping to other countries four million dollars' worth of merchandise a day. Last year Canada's exports reached the gigantic total of $1,124,960,000. More than a billion dollars! That surely is a trading accomplishment to make every Canadian proud.

Inquiries are solicited from firms or organizations interested in export trade.

ADVOCATES WORKS PLAN

Premier Pattullo Discusses Unemployment in Address To Electors

"Unemployment seems to have reached the stage that it is a disease. Relief has taken various forms and has been given not upon a basis of luxury but upon a basis of subsistence. In dealing with the unemployment problem, our Department of Labor has endeavored to encourage individual initiative and to place responsibility upon individual effort," Premier Pattullo declared last night in a review of the unemployment situation.

Organized effort had been made "to force the Government to accede to its demands," the Premier charged. "A few hundred men undertook to defy governmental authority, even to the point of violence, and have kept many of our people in nervous apprehension," he continued.

"MORAL DECREPITUDE"

"Under the policy which your Government has followed, there is no reason why anyone should go hungry, but every man physically capable is expected to endeavor to help himself. A general policy of sole dependence upon the Government would simply lead to moral decrepitude of the individual and the physical decrepitude of our industrial life," Premier Pattullo said.

Transients, heads of families, young men coming fresh from school, and others in a marginal relief category had thrown considerable burdens on governments. Measures had been and were being taken to bring about better conditions, together with youth training in forestry and other lines. The Provincial Government had concurred in national employment insurance, when that could be brought about.

ADVOCATES WORKS

The Premier readvocated a programme of public works throughout Canada, touching on the Trans-Canada Highway and the Alaska-Yukon-British Columbia route in this Province. Such a programme, he stated, could be adopted without injuring the credit of the Dominion and would open work for many now without employment. It was obviously clear that the authority of government must be used to either augment relief or to create works, he said.

Canada's defences could and should be augmented, the Premier continued. Several thousand men could be added to the militia for training and discipline, and to learn useful trades. The same suggestion applied to naval and air forces. Such a programme would help to build up morale and fortify the sense of security. The Provincial Government would review the question of unemployment again in conversations with the Dominion Government next Fall, Premier Pattullo ended.

VETERANS OPEN FRENCH VILLAGE

Week of Revelry Starts as Troops Begin to Gather in Reunion At Toronto Exhibition

TORONTO, July 25 (C.)—A week of revelry, in which those "twenty years after" would be merged into the present, began tonight with the opening of the Canadian Corps reunion's famed French Village.

Pretty girls, bright peasant costumes, numerous estaminets, music and dancing in the "grande place" were the order of the night, as troops began to gather again.

The public in its thousands joined with the men in the authentic setting of a village in Normandy, with its gaily painted houses, contrasting shutters, rainbow-hued roofs, shell-torn walls and factories.

Married in Patrol Ship In the North

CAPE DORSET, N.W.T., July 25 (C.)—Thomas Henry Manning, distinguished British explorer and scientist, and Ella Wallace Jackson, of Halifax, were married today aboard the Arctic patrol ship Nascopie.

Rt. Rev. Archibald Fleming, Anglican Bishop of the Arctic, performed the ceremony, and John Buchan, son of Canada's Governor-General, acted as best man.

The wedding ring was fashioned from an engine-room fitting.

ILL AGAIN?

Into the meat shop came a customer complaining that a ham which he had purchased was not good.

"The ham is all right," insisted the shopkeeper.

"No, it isn't," insisted the customer. "That ham is bad."

"How can it be," continued the shopkeeper, "when it was cured only a week ago!"

"Maybe it had a relapse!"

ODD PEOPLE

One of those flighty city women was visiting in the hills of New England.

Native: "Yes. Most of them go home by the first of September."

Mearns, secretary of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, announces that it would be necessary for all entries in the livestock divisions of the Fall Fair to be in the hands of the exhibition officials before August 13. The fracture occurred at about 5 o'clock, and a crew which was immediately called out to repair the damage succeeded in restoring the water supply to the buildings in the vicinity early yesterday morning. Street cars on the Burnside Road and Hillside Avenue routes were required to use Government Street on the outward trips while repairs were being effected.

The department also attended two false alarms on Sunday, one a smoke scare at the city gas works, and the other a call from a box at the corner of Belmont Avenue and Haultain Street. The Saanich fire department put out a grass and bush fire at Glanford Avenue and Judah Street on Sunday afternoon at 1:45. The firemen worked on the blaze for half an hour.

From Lake Louise they will go south to Portland, California, and Mexico, and intend to return to England via the West Indies. Although Mr. de la Croze has quite a number of paintings in this country, he has brought only a few of his smaller ones with him to Victoria.

STIRRING MESSAGES GIVEN IN BIG TENT

Every seat in the big Gospel tent on Douglas Street was occupied on Sunday evening, when the special evangelistic campaign was launched in this city. Alfred Mace, London, England, was the speaker and gave a stirring message on "Things That Go."

In the afternoon, a well attended rally was addressed by Thomas Carroll, of California, who gave an inspiring and helpful talk on "The Foundation of God Standeth Sure."

A bright, cheery song service preceded each meeting, and in the evening a male quartette rendered most effectively, "For God So Loved the World."

The next meeting will be this evening at 8 o'clock, when Mr. Carroll will speak on "Inexhaustible Wealth and How to Obtain It."

ONCE ENOUGH

There is a story told of a well-known teetotaller who, on hearing a companion vigorously denouncing the practice of christening vessels with champagne prior to their launching, replied:

"I don't know that I altogether agree with you, for to my mind there is a good temperance lesson to be found in it."

"How can that be?" asked the companion.

"Well," replied the teetotaller, "it is noticeable that directly after her first taste of wine, the ship takes to water and sticks to it ever after."

Social Activities and Notes of Personal Interest

Anniversary Is Observed By Pioneers

An outstanding celebration took place in the Royal Oak district yesterday on the occasion of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. David Lehman, well-known and highly-respected pioneer residents of Victoria and Saanich.

Mr. and Mrs. Lehman were married at Winterburn, Ontario, by Rev. J. Wass, on July 25, 1888, and came west to make their home in Victoria. In 1894 they moved to Saanich, where they have since resided. Their two children, Dr. A. W. Lehman, Kelowna, and Mrs. J. E. W. Houghton, Victoria, were here to celebrate with them. One son, Irwin Percy, was killed in the Great War.

RECEIVE CONGRATULATIONS

A largely attended reception was held in the St. Michael's and All Angels' Parish Hall, where Mr. and Mrs. Lehman sat beneath a floral arch to receive congratulations and good wishes of their many friends. They were attended by two of their granddaughters, Diane and Mary Houghton, who carried baskets of flowers.

The hall had been beautifully decorated with masses of Summer flowers and the refreshment table, which was centred by a three-tier wedding cake, was covered with a Cluny lace cloth. Streamers of green crepe paper were suspended above the table, and bands of gold and tall gold tapers in green holders, and vases of sunset roses adorned the table. During the afternoon, Bobby Marconi, accompanied by Janet Robinson, sang a solo, "Little Old Lady," dedicated to Mrs. Lehman.

Mrs. W. Allison, Mrs. S. Jones, Mrs. R. B. Elliot and Mrs. L. H. MacQueen presided at the urns, and those responsible for the decorating of the hall and serving refreshments were Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mrs. P. Hodder, Mrs. B. Hodgson, Mrs. L. H. MacQueen, Mrs. F. Duval, Mrs. A. V. Simpson, Mrs. A. Brookman, and Misses Jean and Helen Elliot, Beatrice Jones, Phyllis Hodder, Beatrice Godson, Diane and Mary Houghton.

EVENING RECEPTION

In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lehman were the honored guests at a reception given in the Wilkinson Road United Church. As they arrived, they were ushered into the church to the strains of the "Wedding March," played by Mr. D. W. Philips, and were then presented by Rev. William Allan with an illuminated address and a sum of money which was given in the name of the congregation of the Wilkinson Road United Church and friends in the Saanich community.

The guests then retired to the church hall, where congratulations were received by the guests of honor, and later refreshments were served by the ladies of the Women's Auxiliary, and Mrs. J. Hoy and Mrs. W. Allan poured tea. During the evening, vocal solos were given by Miss Bertha Phillips, Mr. W. J. Jones and Master Bobby Marconi. A toast to the honored guests was proposed by Rev. Robert Wilkinson, Vancouver. Mr. J. McGuire spoke on behalf of the men's Bible class, and Mrs. Hall, whose mother was a guest at the wedding fifty years ago, was presented. Rev. F. Comley and Mr. W. J. Pimlott also gave short addresses. The evening closed with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and the Benediction.

"A sitdown strike for three weeks? Goodness, why didn't you settle it sooner?"

Sheer Wool Suit Smart for Street

Tailored Sheer Wool Suit.

By CENTRAL PRESS

SHEER wool in one of the popular new porous weaves makes this chic tailored costume for street wear.

A snowy white pique gilet is accented by the buttoned-on bolero that slips on over the short-sleeved, one-piece frock which has a novelty leather belt.

Add black pumps, a wide-brimmed black hat set well back on the head with ties under the chin, and white washable gloves, and you have an attractively youthful costume.

Officers of H.M.S. York Entertained

The arrival of the cruiser H.M.S. York was the occasion of a delightful garden party held yesterday by Commander and Mrs. C. T. Beard at their residence in the Naval Dockyard, when the guests of honor were Vice-Admiral Sir Sidney Julius Meyrick, Commander-in-Chief of the America and West Indies Station, and officers of the flagship.

Several hundred guests were received during the afternoon by Commander and Mrs. Beard and Vice-Admiral and Lady Meyrick, who stood at one side of the great marquee on the flower-bordered lawn. Mrs. Beard looked charming in a gown of pale green and yellow floral chiffon, and a large cream-colored picture hat. Lady Meyrick wore a becoming ensemble of navy blue printed crepe and a navy blue coat and wide-brimmed hat.

Mrs. Hamber, wife of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, was accompanied by Mrs. Mae Rice and Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn, Mrs. Hamber wearing a smart black gown and hat.

Buffet tables were arranged in the marquee and round the lawn, and a background of beautiful Summer flowers and the lawns sloping down to the sea made an ideal setting for the brilliant affair.

Weddings

ROACH—INGRAM

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday evening at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. T. H. McAllister, Qu'Appelle Street, when Irene Ingram, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ingram, Grant Street, and Mr. John Thomas Roach, second son of Mrs. A. Osborne and the late John Roach, Grange Road, were united in marriage.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Norman Ingram, wore a becoming dress of pale blue flowered silk with white hat and white accessories. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mildred Ingram, wearing a becoming frock of dark blue flowered sheer. Both wore corsage bouquets of roses, gladioli and swansonia. Mr. Clifford Roach attended his brother as best man.

After the ceremony, a reception for fifty guests was held at the home of the groom's mother, where the happy couple received the good wishes of their many friends as they stood before the fireplace which was banked with Summer flowers. A two-tier wedding cake centred the refreshment table, which was covered with a lace and madeira cloth and ornamented with tall white tapers in silver holders and silver vases filled with rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Roach left for Lake Cowichan, where the honeymoon will be spent, and on their return, will reside in Victoria.

McMARTIN—DEMPSEY

The marriage took place on July 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Black, Wolf Street, Calgary, at 5:30 o'clock, when Juanita Marguerite, eldest daughter of Mrs. R. L. Dempsey, Neville, Sask., and the late Mr. W. V. Dempsey, became the bride of Mr. Douglas Leabourne McMartin, Vancouver, formerly of Vitoria, son of Mrs. McMartin and the late E. D. McMartin. Rev. C. Harvey Morrison, of Knox United Church, officiated.

The bride wore an attractive ensemble of triple sheer in British tan, with a natural tone fitted jacket and a large taffeta hat of tan. Accessories were in matching shades, and she wore a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses. Mr. Black gave the bride in marriage.

Miss Margaret McMurray was the attendant, gowned in navy blue net embroidered in white. Her large blue hat sponsored streamers and she wore a corsage bouquet of Killarney roses. Mr. Fred Smith, Calgary, cousin of the groom, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for relations and immediate friends. Mrs. Black received wearing an afternoon dress of delphinium blue. White peonies and gladioli decorated the rooms. After a wedding trip to Banff, the bride and groom will later reside in Vancouver.

HOWDEN—BRADSHAW

The marriage of Miss Madeline Bradshaw, daughter of Mrs. S. P. Bradshaw, Palo Alto Drive, and Major Patrick Howden, University School, took place quietly on Saturday, in the presence of the immediate family only. Major and Mrs. Howden left afterwards for Port Angeles on their honeymoon, and will reside in Victoria on their return.

WESTWELL—BROOKES

DUNCAN, July 25.—A wedding of interest to residents of Ladysmith and South Wellington, as well as locally, was celebrated today when Mr. Thomas Westwell, a well-known businessman of Duncan, was married to Miss Alice Brookes, Yorkshire. The marriage took place at the Manse, Duncan, Rev. W. F. Burns performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Enid Pelhane, and Mr. John Kerrone supported the groom. After a wedding breakfast served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kerrone, Mr. and Mrs. Westwell left for a short honeymoon, after which they will make their home in Duncan.

arejo and other officials. None there was injured.

A wing tip brushed a stand occupied by the diplomatic corps, and the wife of the Japanese Charge D'Affaires was slightly hurt.

Many in the unprotected crowd were struck by flying fragments as the plane slashed its way to a halt. A spray of gasoline exploded and burned some, destroying the plane and the body of Pilot Lieut. Abadia.

REMARKED DANGER

The dangerous activity by the aviator was noticed by officials a moment before the crash, and President-Elect Santos remarked to the War Minister that he did not like such stunting over the crowd.

The War Minister agreed, but added the aviators had promised to avoid dangerous acrobatics, finishing his remarks just as Lieutenant Abadia lost control of his ship.

tenant-Governor walked aboard. Seventeen guns roared from Signal Hill when the Admiral left his vessel.

On instructions of the Admiral, the York arrived at Campbell River on Sunday morning in case her assistance was needed in evacuating settlers from the forest fire zone. As she entered Esquimalt Harbor, a Walrus amphibian plane was catapulted from her deck. It flew over the naval dockyard and came to a graceful landing in the harbor.

Admiral Meyrick was born in 1879, receiving his early education aboard H.M.S. Britannia. He joined the Royal Navy in 1893.

He was commander of H.M.S. Resolution from 1916 to 1918, and on the staff of the War College at Greenwich and captain of the Royal Naval College at Dartmouth from 1929 to 1932. He was naval A.D.C. to His Majesty King George V for one year.

From 1926 to 1927 he was director of training and staff duties at the Admiralty. From 1932 to 1934 he was naval secretary to the First Lord of the Admiralty.

CROCHET MADCAP & PILLBOX

by Mayfair

MAYFAIR NEEDLE-ART—DESIGN NO. 500

The ever-popular crocheted calot has grown up! It now has a tiny peak which gives it height and marks it decidedly new season. Embroidered lazy daisy flowers, small buttons or bright-colored discs of felt are used for the trimming. The crocheted pillbox, always a favorite, has not changed its line, but this season it is trimmed with thin feather whisps in bright colors, which make it a bit more formal and grand to wear with tailored togs. You will want one or more of each style and can make one in an evening.

The pattern includes easy-to-follow crochet instructions without abbreviations.

Dr. R. M. Petrie Inaugurates Astronomical Society's Study Course Here

Some of the delightful old mythological stories associated with the heavenly constellations named by the ancient Greeks, Babylonians and Egyptians, were recalled by Dr. R. M. Petrie, of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory staff, in the lecture with which he last evening opened the Summer study course sponsored by the Victoria centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada.

The meeting, held in Victoria College, was presided over by the president, Dr. Gordon Shaw, and in the audience were a number of young students who had just registered for the course. Following the lecture in the hall of science building, there was a period for outdoor observation work under the direction of Robert Peters, the instruments used being Mr. Peters' own three-inch refractor telescope, and three reflector types—A. H. Young's and Dr. Shaw's six-inch, and Leonard Hopkins' eight-inch. These are all amateur-manufactured, a section of the society being devoted to the making of telescopes.

THE CONSTELLATIONS

Dr. Petrie began his talk by indicating the interest of knowing the constellations and something about the ancient mythology and culture associated with their names. People who were the least bit interested in the stars usually derived additional pleasure from the observation of the stars when they knew their names. In this connection he told something about star-maps and gave valuable points about their use. It was very important, he said, when using star-maps to remember that the plan of the sky changed with the season, and that the position of the stars changed during the night with the turning of the earth.

Detailed study of some of the constellations followed, beginning with the group round the North Pole, the Great Bear, and Cassiopeia. As these northern constellations never set, they made excellent "landmarks," and were also useful for indicating the time of night and the season of the year. With the aid of a rough chart it was shown how from the position of the Great Dipper, the time and season could be determined.

ANCIENTS INTERESTED

The fact that some of these constellations had been named five or six thousand years before Christ was an indication of the interest taken in the stars long before the invention of telescopes. The constellation of Bootes ("The Bear Driver"), for instance, had received its name about 6000 B.C., showing that it had been known so long ago. The bright star of this constellation was Arcturus, which moved faster across the sky than any other bright star. Records showed that within 2,000 years its apparent position had changed about the distance of the diameter of the full moon, this, as stars' positions were adjudged, being very fast.

The constellation Hercules was now upside down; in 4667 it was right way up, and the probability was that it was named about that time as it would have been much more prominent then than at the present time. It was this constellation toward which our solar system was moving, said Dr. Petrie.

SEEN IN EGYPT

It was the dwellers of the Euphrates Valley who in about 1,200 B.C. had named the constellation Aquilla, the eagle. Perseus was named about 1400 B.C. This constellation contained the notable double-star Algol, which became very faint every two days and twenty-one hours owing to eclipse by a "dark" companion. Because of this fading-out, the star had been called "The Demon" by the Arabians.

Finally, Dr. Petrie spoke of the constellation Andromeda, "the chained lady," whose name dated back to 3500 B.C. at least. He recalled the old Greek myth of Andromeda, daughter of Cepheus and Cassiopeia, king and queen of Ethiopia. Perseus had rescued and married Andromeda, chained to a cliff by Poseidon's orders in the hope that it would free the land from floods and disasters imposed by the jealous gods when Cassiopeia boasted that her beauty was greater than that of the Nereids.

Describes Voyage of Te Rapunga

A vividly dramatic account of the voyage of the thirty-foot ketch Te Rapunga was given to the Summer School of Education students yesterday morning by the skipper of the little craft, Captain Georg Dibbern.

The story began with the departure from Germany and finished in New Zealand, from where the Te Rapugna sailed once more across the Pacific to Victoria with its small crew of three.

A lively description was given of incidents en route; the stranding of the ketch on the sands of one of the Dutch harbors, and the difficulty of refloating in the shallow return tide; the opposite difficulty of landing at Folkestone, where the strong tides swept the little vessel back and forth past the entrance until such time as she was able to fall into the wake of a big ocean liner and be swept willy-nilly to her berth; the arrival at Gibraltar; the visit to the Balearic Islands and five months' cruise in the Mediterranean which preceded the more adventurous trip across the Atlantic.

The first really bad weather was encountered about 100 miles off the coast of France, and Captain Dibbern gave a dramatic account of this and the behavior of his crew and craft during this experience. On the whole, the trans-Atlantic crossing from Europe to the Panama was fairly uneventful, thank to prevailing fair winds. Too uneventful was the trip from Panama to San Francisco. Owing to the lack of breeze, this part of voyage occupied about 100 days. The rest of the narrative was a description of the voyage from San Francisco to New Zealand, with some philosophical deductions concerning man's ability to adjust himself to circumstance.

IMPROVEMENT IN TRADE FORECAST

M. S. Brooks, Studebaker President, Anticipates Increased Prosperity In Second Half of Year

"I have every reason to believe that business will be increasingly prosperous in British Columbia and in the Prairie provinces in the last six months of this year, because of greatly improved crop conditions," declared M. S. Brooks, Walkerville, Ont., president of the Studebaker Corporation of Canada, Limited, who was a visitor to Victoria yesterday in the course of his annual tour of inspection of Studebaker agencies throughout the Dominion.

The last six weeks had witnessed a great improvement in business conditions in Canada, Mr. Brooks said. Though automobile production in the United States had suffered a decline of 50 per cent, as compared with 1937, the decline in Canadian production amounted to only 15 per cent.

"We appreciate the reception Studebaker cars are given in British Columbia, because, proportionately, we do a bigger percentage of business in this province than anywhere else in the Dominion," Mr. Brooks remarked.

Mr. Brooks was in conference yesterday with Ben Grossman, of Jameson Motors, Limited, Victoria agents for Studebaker cars.

ALWAYS GOOD-BYE IS DOMINION FILM

Barbara Stanwyck Gives Fine Performance With Herbert Marshall Co-Starred

The all-too-frequent situation of young mothers being compelled to surrender their newly-born young because they have neither home nor means of livelihood to enable them to give proper care, is forcibly told in "Always Good-bye," which will open today at the Dominion Theatre. In what has been described as one of the finest roles of her career, Barbara Stanwyck is co-starred with Herbert Marshall.

Based on a story by Gilbert Emery and Douglas Doty, the screen play by Kathryn Scola and Edith Skouras is a vividly dramatic treatment of romance and mother love.

That Body of Yours
by JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

RECORD OF FIFTEEN YEARS' TREATMENT OF EPILEPSY WITH THE KETOGENIC DIET

The treatment of epilepsy of a few years ago was simply to try to prevent the patient from hurting himself during an attack, the use of bromides to quiet him, and advising that large meals be not eaten at the evening meal or bedtime. Thus, although the cause of epilepsy is still unknown, that food is a factor in causing epileptic attacks has been recognized. Finally, it was found that by cutting down on other foods and liquids and increasing fat foods, many epileptics were kept free from attacks. And many of those who were not kept free of attacks on this fat or ketogenic diet were kept free by the use of one of the barbital drugs.

Just how effective is this ketogenic diet in preventing attacks of epilepsy?

Drs. H. F. Helmholz and Moe Goldstein, Mayo Clinic, used for fifteen years (1922 to 1936) the ketogenic diet, and treated 501 children with epilepsy.

Of 409 with the usual or regular type of epilepsy, 84 (31 per cent) were rendered free for at least one year, 43 (16 per cent) were definitely improved, while the treatment failed in 140 patients, and no co-operation or help from the patients was obtained in 142.

Of the 84 rendered free from the attacks, 73 are now eating a normal diet, but 11 are still on the ketogenic diet. Freedom from attacks ranges from at least one year in all cases to five to ten years in 46 per cent, and ten to fifteen years in 18 per cent.

Of 92 patients with symptomatic or partial epilepsy, 10 were rendered free of attacks for one to nine years.

What about epileptic attacks returning in those cured or helped by the ketogenic diet?

Investigation shows that only 5 to 10 per cent who have been cured of true epilepsy by the ketogenic diet will have a return of the attacks within seven years after the last attack. If a patient has gone seven years without an attack the possibility of attacks returning seems to be slight.

The normal diet for a healthy individual is one part proteins (meat, eggs and fish) to two parts fats (butter, cream, egg yolk) to three or four parts starch (bread, potatoes, sugar). The ketogenic diet, however, as used in preventing epileptic attacks, is one part proteins, one part starches and three parts fats.

A man was asked in an English county court why he had not called a meeting of his creditors.

"There's no necessity to do that," he replied. "All my creditors know very well how much I can't pay them."

Australia Beats England by Five Wickets at Leeds

Mythical "Ashes" Remain With the Aussies for Another Year—O'Reilly and Fleetwood-Smith Bowl Brilliantly for the Winners—30,000 Fans Attend—Fifth Game at The Oval

LEEDS, England, July 25 (Reuter).—A pair of spin bowlers subdued England's batsmen today and paved the way for Australia's five-wicket victory in the fourth cricket test match. The decision was the first of the 1938 series between the two countries.

At the top of their form W. J. O'Reilly and L. O'B. Fleetwood-Smith brought about England's dismissal for a second-innings total of 123. Needing 105 runs to win the Antipodeans compiled 107 for the loss of five wickets. In their first innings the invaders made 242 runs in reply to the English team's 223.

The first two tests—high-scoring matches at Nottingham and London—were drawn, but rain prevented play in the third, scheduled for Manchester.

Kennington Oval in London will be the venue of the fifth and final encounter.

MYTHICAL ASHES

Whatever the outcome of the final match, the mythical ashes will remain with the Aussies. They won the world's cricket honors in England in 1934 and defended them successfully in the 1936-37 series in Australia against the team led by Gilbert Allen. Today's decision was the fifty-seventh for Australia. England is credited with fifty-four matches, thirty-one being drawn.

When play was resumed today, England had a lead of 30 runs with all wickets intact, but O'Reilly and Fleetwood-Smith brought about a remarkable collapse. The tall New South Wales bowler took five wickets for 56 runs and Fleetwood-Smith four for 37. O'Reilly's bag for the match showed 10 for 122, while his teammate garnered seven for 107.

BATTING HEROES

Batting honors for the three days' play went to the opposing captains. Don Bradman's 103 was chiefly responsible for the overseas team's first innings lead, but the visiting skipper was dismissed for 15 in his second turn at the wickets. Wally Hammond led England with 76 last Friday. Today he was among four Englishmen who failed to score. Hammond went out on the first ball he received.

C. J. Barnett, Gloucestershire first-wicket batsman, headed England's second innings scorers with 29.

Thirty thousand spectators saw Ben Barnett, Australian wicket-keeper, make the winning hit a few minutes before the time set for the tea interval.

Spotting Nanaimo six runs in the opening frame of the nightcap, Victoria finally caught up with the Up-Islanders, only to gain a tie when Nanaimo pushed over four markers in the last of the eighth, the fixture ending 12-12.

Tommy Restell pitched the first inning in the second game, and was relieved by Ted Maitland, the latter finally giving way to Sonny Walker later in the game. Scores:

INDIANS AND BOSTON TAKE ONE APIECE

Johnny Allen Loses Second Game of Season—Harder Scores Victory

By The Associated Press

After two pitching duels, the Indians and Red Sox remained just where they were before they started today's double-header — Cleveland in second place a game back of the Yankees and Boston in third position another game and a half to the rear.

The Red Sox won the opener, 4-0, as Rookie Emerson Dickman outpitched the veteran Johnny Allen, who after winning twelve straight, suffered his second setback of the season and his third in thirty games over two years. Mel Harder outpointed young Jim Bagby, however, 3-0, in the nightcap to give the Indians an even break.

Dickman held the Indians to three hits for his fifth victory as against two defeats. Earl Averill got to him for a scratch double in the second and that was all until Hal Trosky also doubled in the eighth. Sammy Hale got the other blow, a single in the ninth.

Allen himself yielded only five hits before he was replaced by Bill Zuber at the start of the eighth. One of the blows was Jimmy Foxx's twenty-seventh homer in the sixth after the Sox had scored once in the second on Higgins' double and Doerr's single and twice in the fifth on a walk, Higgins' single, Ken Keltner's error, and a fielder's choice.

Harder limited the Sox to five hits, while the Indians were making the most of six off young Bagby, who fanned nine. Bagby had the misfortune, however, to pitch a home-run ball to Keltner in the third, his seventeenth homer of the year. In the sixth Heath tripled and scored on Averill's fly. The Tribe counted again in the ninth on Heath's infield single and Keltner's double.

Seabiscuit Nominated

SEATTLE, July 25 (AP).—Seabiscuit, the great grandson of Man o' War, and currently the turf's leading money winner, was nominated for the $10,000 Longacres mile September 11. Mort Carraher, of the Washington Jockey Club, said Owner C. S. Howard also said the race horse would remain for a special race at Longacres.

Broke Record but It Didn't Count

Clyde Jeffrey, of Riverside Junior College, breezed through the middle of the five-man field final of the 150-yard invitation dash at Randall Island, New York. He nipped Herb Thompson, of the Pioneer A.C. (right), to smash the new world record which Thompson had set twenty minutes before. Jeffrey's time was 13.9 seconds, but the judges, after consultation, refused to let the record stand because a fairly strong wind favored the runners. Thompson's time was 14.1 seconds, beating Charlie Paddock's seventeen-year-old mark by one-tenth of a second. Here is the finish: Left to right, Wilbur Greer, Michigan State; Mozel Ellerbee, Tuskegee Institute; Clyde Jeffrey; Arnold Nutting, Olympic Club, who finished third, and Herbert Thompson, who gained second place.

Freddie Steele Is Favored to Win From Al Hostak This Evening

SEATTLE, Wash., July 25 (AP).—Middleweight Champion Freddie Steele, Tacoma, and Al Hostak, the savage Slav pride of Seattle's Georgetown mill district, took light limbering-up exercises today, final prepping for their fifteen-round title match, at 9:15 p.m. tomorrow.

They will weigh in at 2 p.m. tomorrow before Dr. J. S. Thomas, examining physician, and members of the State Athletic Commission, Steele at 158 to 159 and Hostak a pound or two lighter.

The challenger became an even money proposition to lift the crown Steele has worn two years, as Seattle fans began answering Tacomans' "money talks" arguments. Yesterday the boys who bet still posted Steele a 10-9 favorite.

COAST SQUAD LEADS IN CUP SERIES BUT SCORES THROWN OUT

Don Gowan's Two Shots From Out-of-Bounds Positions Forces Officials to Disqualify the Team After Being Posted as Winners—Jimmy Todd Has Two Rounds of 74

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 25.—The executive of the Royal Canadian Golf Association tonight disqualified British Columbia, low-scoring team in the Willingdon Cup team competition, after Don Gowan, whose out-of-bounds play brought about the decision, had voluntarily reported the circumstances to the association.

The decision was not made until long after British Columbia had been posted winners among the seven four-man teams that competed over thirty-six holes of medal play. The posting gave the Pacific Coast team a 603, against 607 for Quebec, 1937 champions, and Ontario.

As a result of the disqualification the Ontario and Quebec teams will meet at 2 p.m., P.S.T., tomorrow in a five-hole play-off. They will play over the first, second, third, seventeenth and eighteenth holes.

Gowan was broken up over the affair. When the victory celebration of the British Columbians was in full swing, Gowan realized there might be some question about his out-of-bounds play.

He got in touch with the officials and an executive meeting was hurriedly summoned into conference in the London Hunt and Country Clubhouse.

DECISION MADE

After hearing Gowan, the executive went into further discussion and finally announced the disqualification.

Gowan's disqualification—and that of his team—hinges about his play at the eighth and ninth holes of the afternoon round. His tee shot from the eighth and his second from the ninth went to the left, beyond a line marked by fence posts through which a wire cable runs.

The announcement came as a shock to the British Columbia team. Jimmy Todd, of Victoria, one of the team's leading scorers, wagged his head and said, "Too bad, too bad." Gowan was inconsolable, but his mates pointed out he did the sporting thing.

Kenny Black, captain of the British Columbia team, made no immediate comment.

To the Canadian Press, Secretary Anderson made this statement:

"The Royal Canadian Golf Association exceedingly regrets the circumstances surrounding the disqualification and the fact that the scores were posted showing British Columbia the winning team."

Behind Ontario and Quebec, under the ruling, Alberta finished in third spot with an aggregate of 618; Manitoba came fourth with 620; Saskatchewan and the only representatives from the Maritimes, a combined New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island team, were far behind the leaders. Saskatchewan had an aggregate of 662, and the Maritimes, led by Pete Kelly, hockey playing golfer, had 701.

WINS JUNIOR TITLE

The Canadian junior championship was settled at the same time and the crown, first put up this year for competition by the Royal Canadian Golf Association, went to Jim Hogan, nineteen-year-old sharpshooter from Jasper, Alta., who carded 157 for the thirty-six holes. Hogan was also a member of the Alberta provincial team, his same score counting in the aggregate.

With the junior title went the Buckingham Cup, presented by Charles H. Sclater, of Hamilton.

Hogan and six other provincial junior champions fought for the trophy. A three-day tie for second place at 158 found these youngsters bunched: Gaston Ouellette, of Ottawa Rivermead; Howard Bennett, sixteen-year-old player from Winnipeg and the baby of the tournament, and Ray Grieve, of Toronto Islington, holder for the last three years of the Ontario title.

Hughies Morrison, of Vancouver, had 159; Mickey Pyke, of Humboldt, Sask., 172, and John Steele, of Saint John, 173.

In the whole field today no one was able to give par a licking over eighteen holes.

The best nine-hole performance was the homecoming afternoon trip of Sandy Somerville, who turned in a 34. Par each way for the London Hunt and County Club is 35, a stiff test over the rolling course with a good share of natural hazards.

A winding river offers a threat at five holes, and there are nine where a wild shot will easily go out of bounds. Most of those who ran into difficulty today were balked by the water hazards.

In leading the British Columbia team today, Black served notice he will offer a real threat to Somerville, who seeks his seventh Canadian crown, this time over his home course.

Starting tomorrow at match play, a field of 116 will take up the grind that ends late Saturday.

Black's best round today was a par 35 on the second nine of the morning, but he was close to par figures throughout. He shot 36-35 for 71 in the morning, and came back in the afternoon with 36-37 for 73. Somerville tied for low score of the day at 144.

TODD SCORES WELL

Sticking closely to his teammate and playing steadily throughout, Jimmy Todd, of Victoria, carded a morning 74 and the same for the afternoon. Todd, a southpaw, who met Somerville in a semi-final match at Ottawa last year, showed a 36 for his best round, the back stretch in the morning.

Johnnie Richardson, tall youngster from Calgary, who can still qualify for junior play, led the Alberta contingent with 150, his best round a 74 in the morning that included a par 35 on the home nine.

Henry Martell, with a very shaky 79 in the afternoon, posted 153 for the Albertans, and behind him came Hogan with his 157, and Bobby Procter, Alberta champion, with 74 and 79 for 153.

Herb Pickard led the Manitobans with 151, followed by Ernie Palmer with 152. Saskatchewan's best bid was made by Ken Smith, of Regina, with 161. Pete Kelly's 164 was the best the Maritime representatives could offer.

British Columbia led by only one stroke at the end of the morning play, with 299 for eighteen holes, but Ontario, with 300 at that stage faltered, and Quebec, with 305 and Alberta, with 303, could not keep pace with the Far Westerners.

British Columbia first won the Willingdon Cup in 1933 at Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver. Kenny Black was a member of that team. The Pacific Coast team repeated in 1934 at Laval-Sur-le-Lac, Quebec, and won again in 1936 at St. Charles Club in Winnipeg.

STEVEDORES MARCH INTO FINAL ROUND

Defeat Burns & Co. 9-6 in Softball Playdowns—To Meet Camerons

Bring on the Cameron Lumber softballers! That's the cry of Manager Jim Lackie's Victoria Longshoremen, following their second straight triumph over Burns & Co. in the "A" section preliminary playdowns.

Stevedores, on their toes and taking full advantage of everything that came their way, brought to a sudden end the championship aspirations of the green-sweatered Shamrocks last night at the Caledonia Avenue ball lot, when they checked in with a 9-6 victory.

It was a battle of portsiders, with Lloyd Jones, veteran pitcher, on the slab for Burns & Co., and young Ralph Bonner on the mound for the Stevedores. Both moundsmen hurled nice ball, yielding thirteen safeties, with the V.L.A. nicking Jones for the odd bingle.

Ragged at intervals, and then really snappy during other stages, the game attracted a large following, and the fans appeared evenly divided. Twelve "boots" were chalked up against the two clubs, but the interested gallery paid more attention to the way the runs came across the plate than they did to the miscues.

TWO-RUN ATTACK

Burns & Co. opened with a two-run attack in the initial frame, when they bunched three of their six safeties, only to have the Stevedores push across the same number of markers in their half of the same inning.

Longshoremen moved in front as early as the second stanza, but the lead was only short-lived. After a scoreless third session, Burns & Co. sent a trio of runners scampering over the home plate on costly bobbles by the Longshoremen. Stevedores regained the lead in the sixth, when they collected two base knocks and, aided by "boots" by their opponents, scored three runs. They added another trio of markers in the seventh, two of them coming when Lloyd Knapp hoisted a high drive to deep left field, with a clubmate on the keystone bag.

Burns & Co. made a bid in the eighth, but their best effort was a single run, and their final score of the game.

Score—		R.
Burns & Co.	200 300 010—	6
V.L.A.	210 003 30x—	9

45,000 Fans See Seabiscuit Win Big Purse

Seabiscuit, with Jockey Georgie Woolf, of Cardston, Alberta, in the saddle, nearly gave his backers heart failure before he came from far off the pace to win the $50,000 Hollywood Gold Cup at Hollywood Park, California. The mighty son of Hard Tack ran down Specify in the stretch, and managed to stave off the gallant challenge of the Canadian-owned Whichee in the final fifty yards. His time of 2:03 4-5 for the one and one-quarter miles was a new track record. The photo at the top shows Seabiscuit passing the finish line, followed by Specify and Whichee; while below is shown a section of the mammoth throng which witnessed the victory. The programme drew 45,000 fans with fine weather prevailing.

The Province Cup semi-final football match, scheduled this evening at the Athletic Park between North Shore United and the Navy of the Victoria Wednesday League, has been put off indefinitely, officials announced yesterday. The match will not be played until North Shore returns to the province from the Winnipeg series in the Dominion Challenge Cup competition.

Most of the members of the Navy eleven are away on ships that are standing by to facilitate evacuation in the forest fire which is still raging in the Campbell River district.

ANNOUNCE OPEN CLASS IN PARADE

At a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce last evening, it was decided to include an open class in the day parade, which will be held here on Wednesday, August 3. There will be no prize, and the entries must be suitably decorated and subject to the approval of the chief marshal and the two deputies. The meeting decided on this step due to the many inquiries received that could not be classified under any of the existing classes.

It was also decided that any questions arising as to the classification of entries or any changes in ruling for the parade also be left to the discretion of the marshal and deputies.

Plans are going forward for the coronation of "Miss Victoria," which will be held next Monday evening, it was reported. The scene of the ceremony has not yet been decided.

Meetings Planned by Veteran Associations

A special meeting of the British Imperial Comrades' Association has been called for tomorrow at 8 p.m., in the group headquarters, to discuss resolutions which will be submitted to the forthcoming convention in Vancouver. All members are requested to make a special effort to attend the session.

The monthly meeting of the district council of the Canadian Legion is scheduled for Thursday in the Orange Hall in Saanichton. The session will begin at 8 o'clock.

A meeting of the finance committee of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion will be held in the View Street headquarters at 7:45 p.m. Thursday.

WINS GRUELLING TENNIS FIXTURE

Larry Hall Eliminates Ross Sidaway In Western Canada Meet On Mainland

VANCOUVER, July 25 (C.P.). — In one of the most gruelling games ever witnessed on a tennis court here, Larry Hall, of Bakersfield, Calif., defeated Ross Sidaway, Vancouver, 6-2, 13-15, 12-10, in their opening match of the Western Canadian tennis championships today.

Battling for more than three hours under a scorching sun, the pair drew applause time and again with their smashing plays.

In the second set Sideway had set point at 6-5, but lost his opportunity for a fast finish, going on to 13-15 to take the set.

Kay Staples, Duncan, put up a gallant fight against the junior girls' titleholder of Washington State, Daphne Bucknell, but the lone entrant from Vancouver Island lost, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Mary Arnold, of Los Angeles, winner of the Washington State ladies' singles, beat Vancouver's Kay Howatson, 6-1, 6-1.

Harold Wagner, San Francisco, who reached the semi-finals in Seattle last week, beat Bill Thomas, Vancouver, 6-4, 6-2.

Wagner may default future games because of a slight foot injury which appeared to handicap his play in his opening game.

Mrs. G. Gross, of Berkeley, Calif., and Edwin Amark, of San Francisco, defaulted.

Selling Is Heavy In Early Trading On Wall Street

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP).—Some of the rallying steam evaporated from today's stock market after selected issues had boiled upward fractions to more than 2 points to new highs for around the past ten months.

The list was forced to absorb heavy selling in the forenoon, but it did so in fast churning proceedings that, for a while, put the ticker tape as much as three minutes behind.

Backwardness of rails and late offerings of steels helped discourage many traders, and most leaders closed well down from their best. At the same time, despite the price shakiness, The Associated Press average of sixty stocks managed to emerge with a new advance of .1 of a point at 50.8, a new top since last October. Transfers amounted to 2,106,500 shares against 1,222,140 Friday.

Secondary rails continued their upward movement today in bond market. The rail group closed a full point higher.

Industrials and utilities reached new highs for the year. The foreign dollar list showed a substantial rise.

United States Government obligations were irregular, changes ranging from 3-32 decline to a 3-32 rise.

Japan 6 1-2's at 73 were 1 1-2 higher. Rome 6's dropped 3 3-4 to 6? 3-4.

DOW JONES AVERAGES

Dow Jones averages closed today follows:

Thirty industrials, 144.91, up 0.67.
Twenty rails, 30.14, off 0.24.
Fifteen utilities, 22.08, up 0.09.
Forty bonds, 98.83, up 32.
Total sales, 2,110,000.

Bathurst was another heavy gainer, up 1 1-4.

Noranda held to most of its improvement, finishing 1 1-4 higher after touching 73, a new 1938 high.

LACK OF ACTION IN GRAIN MARKET

WINNIPEG, July 25 (CP).—Traders remained out of the pit today, and the Winnipeg market showed a decided lack of action throughout.

Belief that traders were awaiting release of the minimum price announcement from Ottawa prevailed as the quiet session advanced. Inter-market spreading was negligible and export business was confined to shipments of small lots.

Prices dipped from the start, largely on reports of weakness at Liverpool. Beneficial showers over the Prairies added to the bearish outlook, and the close found quotations 1 1-2 to 1 cent lower. July dropped below the dollar mark for the first time in a week and closed at 99 7-8. November 76, and December, 75 1-8 cents.

Strong all last week Liverpool led the dip today, and at the close was at 1 3-4 to 3-4d lower. American markets were also in the doldrums, with export business at a minimum. Buenos Aires was down 1 1-2 to 1 3-4 at noon after an unchanged opening.

Cash wheat and coarse grains business was dormant.

TIME OUT! - - - By Chet Smith

"What's the Matter—Don't You Trust Me?"

LIFE'S LIKE THAT - By Fred Neher

"I never used to like the beach—the sand got in my hair."

Jane Dixon Says:

MAN, DETERMINED NOT TO MARRY, HAS NO RIGHT TO MONOPOLIZE WOMAN'S ENTIRE LIFE

A man with a selfish heart and a stubbornly opinioned mind is a bad investment for any woman.

An individual has the right to hold to his or to her opinion so long as the exercise of these opinions does not interfere with the happiness or becloud the future of others.

Beware of the man who says, "I shall never marry," and who means it.

He has a selfish heart, a distorted mind, and a definite anti-social complex.

Dear Miss Dixon: For several years I have been going with a man many years my senior. He has been married before, most unhappily. I know we both care deeply for each other.

This man has determined that he will never marry again. He is well able to afford marriage; in fact, he is a man of property and of means.

I believe the reason for his decision is that he has grown children, sons and daughters, who discourage his taking a wife, and that he feels if he did so it would cut down their inheritance. Yet he is a home-loving man and needs companionship.

He is generous and courteous, yet he will not face the thought of giving me up or allowing me the privilege of going out with other men friends. Am I right or wrong, going on this way?—"A Friend."

Comment: The question is not one of right or of wrong, but of great injustice to yourself. What is to become of you while this man is pursuing his self-centred way and saving his worldly goods for his children?

Youth does not last forever. Opportunity for women achieving advantageous and happy marriage grows more slender with the years, once they have passed their youth.

The man you describe is a time-stealer and a squanderer of your chances to fulfill your woman's destiny, to find your woman's happiness. Tell him quite frankly that you believe it is your right to try to find a husband and a home; that inasmuch as he intends to supply neither, you will extend your circle of friendship among eligible men, and will include him in that circle if he cares to remain.

Let him know that you are a real woman, whole-hearted, whole-bodied and whole-souled, even though he is only half a man.

NOT GOOD ENOUGH

A young Scotsman who had secured a job with a builder fell off the scaffold where he was working. The foreman came along to the end of the roof and was relieved to see the man scrambling to his feet from a heap of sand that had saved his life.

"Consider yourself lucky, mate!" said the foreman.

The Scotsman looked up: "Lucky be blowed," he complained. "I've broken my braces."

"Well, why don't you get the right key, then you wouldn't need to break in," said the bored one.

INSTALMENT XXVI

Moleen said whitely, "Just tell me. No matter what it is, I'll do it."

The district attorney sat down nervously. Moleen and Mignon sank down on the bench and watched him tautly while he drummed on the table.

In a little while he looked up.

"I don't believe there's any real danger in it for you," he said uncertainly. "But it's going to take a lot of courage, and some good acting. First, I want you to register at the Hotel Sandling. We'll plant a dictograph in the room.

"Then, I want you to telephone Farro and tell him you've been thrown out of our house, because I suspect you are connected with him. Tell him I recognized him when he was Mignon's guest at dinner, and am wise to the fact that he's the brains of the Rafetti gang."

Moleen watched him with enormous eyes.

"I—understand. Yes, I'll do it!"

"Tell him I'm not going to do anything to you because I don't want to embarrass Mignon. Say I'm afraid the newspapers would involve her. Sell him on the idea you are trying to tip him off.

"Then tell him these is something else he should know, but that you're afraid to tell him on the phone—that you're afraid some one might be listening in, even though you do feel pretty certain no one knows where you are.

"I want to get him into that room with the dictograph. He has a bunch of powerful politicians behind him. When I crack this case I want to hang Farro with his own words. You must try to get him to admit his connections with Rafetti."

"I'll do my best," Moleen nodded. "Then what?"

"We'll just have to trust to luck." Tom Laine got up. "And to your ability to put the right questions to him."

"Oh, Molly," Mignon shivered, "please be careful! I hate to see you do it."

"I'm—glad," Moleen smiled, "and I'm not afraid. Not a bit."

Laine looked down at her quizzically, his face softening.

"I've had to be pretty tough with you, youngster. But it's all in my business. I was going to save this for later. But I think I'll tell you now and maybe it'll help to give you courage. We have every reason to believe that your brother Pat is innocent. Your theory that he could have talked, but wouldn't, is correct."

Moleen swayed. Mignon steadied her:

"You—mean—oh, Mr. Laine, are you sure?"

The district attorney smiled.

"Corrigan tipped me off to this, too. He picked it up from a stool pigeon a couple of days ago. Pat O'Dare was witness to a shooting of one of the high-ups in another gang by one of the Rafetti gang. Charlie Farro gave him a job in a poolroom for a week and to trap him paid him off in counterfeit. Pat was told you and your mother would both be bumped off if he talked. With the counterfeit rap against him, he was too scared to disobey."

Moleen gave way to tears. It was a great relief to cry. When they had quieted her, Mignon begged her father to allow Sunny to come in just for a little while. He was waiting with Jed in the car around the corner.

Moleen dried her eyes. "Oh, Mignon, he'll hate me now! After what I've done! And I'm such a mess!"

Mignon wheedled, "Run along, dad. Just for—ten minutes."

What Today Means

"LEO"

If July 26 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 1:30 a.m.; from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., and from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m.; from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., and from 10:30 p.m. until midnight.

There may prevail a tendency to talk too quickly this day, which will get many people in trouble. Give every question careful thought before making a reply. By listening to induendo and indiscreet gossip, you run the chance of either judging some person wrong, or gaining an erroneous impression regarding his or her actions. The desire to dictate may be a contributing factor in creating unpleasant conditions before the day passes, so under no conditions be dictatorial. Mental alertness will be needed in your social and business contacts, so keep your mind centred upon whatever is said to you this day. You may find yourself better off financially or acquiring worldly goods within twenty-four hours. Married and engaged couples, and those who find themselves Cupid's willing pawns in his game of love, must be tactful in expressing adverse opinion, if called upon to say just what they think regarding personal motives and actions.

If a woman and July 26 is your birthday, you might find yourself having difficulty in putting over some very worthwhile idea. Do not get discouraged, for you might find yourself in the position to do so. Your work as an educator, artist, musician, saleslady, actress or trained nurse might bring you numerous opportunities to advance yourself and make money.

The child born on July 26 is apt to be exceptionally truthful, with plenty of moral courage. Children born on this date generally have such strong opinions that they give the impression they are of a stubborn nature, which frequently is not the case. Success often comes to those who celebrate this as their birth anniversary, soon after they start their business or professional career.

If a man and July 26 is your natal day, you are, most likely, very diplomatic, make friends readily, and will finally win Lady Luck's favor. As a jurist, statesman, politician, builder, contractor, artist, author or sales agent, your future ought to be assured.

SCOUT NEWS

South Cowichan and St. Paul's

The South Cowichan and St. Paul's, Esquimalt, troops of Boy Scouts have just returned from a successful ten days' camp at Strathcona Point, Shawnigan Lake. By kind permission of Miss M. Gildea, tents were pitched on the playing field of the Strathcona School for Girls, and the diving float and power boat were available for use by the Scouts, as well as a sailing cutter, loaned by C. W. Lonsdale.

Instructional classes were held each morning and the afternoons were devoted to bathing and boating. After supper, keenly contested softball games and boxing preceded cheery singsongs around the camp fire. A special feature of these entertainments was the story telling, in four installments, by Troop Leader Phillip La Fortune, who graphically described his cycling trip to the Scout jamboree held at Washington, D.C., last Summer.

Welcome visitors on Thursday were Commander J. E. W. Oland, R.C.N., and two officers of the R.C.N.V.R. In the evening all new campers were initiated into the secret society of "Cap'n. Hook."

One of the highlights of the camp was the dismemberning and cooking of a whole sheep presented to the Scouts by A. T. Motherwell, Cobble Hill.

Special instruction in swimming was given twice each day, and the following passed the test for the Scout swimmer's badge:

South Cowichan, R. Spiegelhalter, M. Hooper, B. Wilkinson, C. Williams, B. Williams, B. Barton, R. Granfield; St. Paul's Esquimalt, A. Young, R. Whitlock.

The following passed the swimming test for the first-class badge, C. Ross, G. Matthews, C. Makepeace, R. Hooper.

Thirty-seven boys attended the camp. Commander Kingscote was in charge of the South Cowichan Troop, and Rev. Arthur Bischlager, Scouter of St. Paul's, Esquimalt, acted as camp chief. They were ably assisted by Troop Leader Phil La Fortune.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Peter Relieves His Mind About Bob White

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

After Peter Rabbit and Mrs. Peter had eaten their fill of the good things Farmer Brown's Boy had brought to the dear Old Brier Patch for them on that never-to-be-forgotten day of the hard, icy crust over which Farmer Brown's Boy had glided so swiftly on his skates, all of Peter's uneasiness in regard to Bob White and his family had returned to him. He couldn't get them out of his head. In spite of the fact that Bob had told him the day before that they would sleep in a new place that night, where the crust could not make them prisoners, Peter could not get over the

PROTESTS MADE IN RESOLUTIONS

Canadian Anti-Vivisection Society Condemns Practice In Mental Hospitals

A resolution condemning the use of insulin shock methods and metrazol convulsion therapy, given in certain mental hospitals in British Columbia, was passed at the monthly board meeting of the Canadian Anti-Vivisection Society, Victoria. H. Webster presided.

The meeting also condemned "the constant use of pharmaceutical and biological products put out by commercial houses, without knowledge of their actual effects."

It was decided that an appeal should be made to the radio corporation to have the talks by naturopaths resumed over the radio, as, in the opinion of the society, these talks were greatly appreciated by the public.

The following resolution also was placed on record: "The society is glad to note that, by Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson's report to the city school board, only 5 per cent of the children are vaccinated. It is hoped that this number will be greatly reduced in the near future. It is always advisable to spend money on improvement of sanitation, the lack of which may produce disease."

Censure was passed on the recently reported drowning experiments on animals.

PASTEURIZATION

Regret wa expressed that the Provincial Board of Health had published, at public expense, a one-sided pamphlet on the pasteurization of milk, "calculated to cause alarm, and very injurious to the milk industry." Adults, it was pointed out, could dispense with milk, which was not a necessity.

It was reported that the names of several new members had been enrolled in the Canadian Anti-Vivisection Society.

It was decided that the annual celebration of World Day for Animals should take place early in October, as is customary.

Those desiring particulars of the work of the society should apply to Miss Dora Kitto, honorary secretary, 315 Sayward Building.

KEPT THEIR BASEBALLS

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, July 25 (AP).—Irked when a property owner kept the two baseballs he recovered from his garden, a boys' team picketed his house. "This man is unfair to the kids of this neighborhood," read the signs. Now Juvenile Officer Riley Nelson has the baseballs and the signs and says he is looking for a rule book on which to base a decision.

MAKES PLEA FOR AIDING YOUTHS

Dr. R. R. G. Watte, a Former Canadian, Asks Sympathy of Citizens In Handling the Young

The members of the Gyro Club yesterday heard a very strong plea to lend aid to boys and girls, who were coming into maturity, in such a way as would fit them for good citizens of Canada. The plea was made by a former Canadian, Dr. R. R. G. Watte, a member of the faculty of the University of Southern California, who is lecturing at the Summer School being conducted here.

"The whole mass of the people of the country should be trained to take part in the economic life of the nation rather than the few being trained for special work," said the speaker. He alluded to the difficulty of equipping schools with the most modern machinery to train youths, but he urged employers to give the youth coming to them for employment the very best possible chances to start off in a good way.

HOPED FOR BETTER TIME

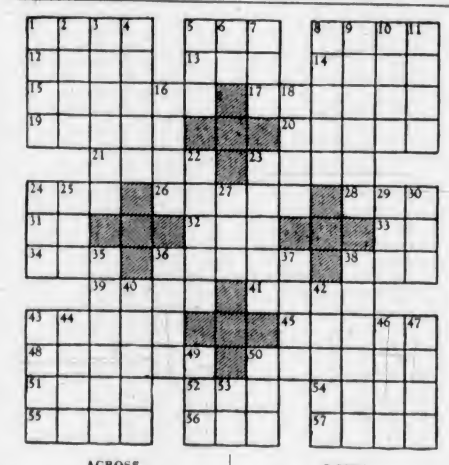

Dr. Watte hoped that within the next few years there would be the opportunities afforded by the working out of plans now under consideration by which youngsters would be given a taste of actual training in their life work. The position in which boys were placed where the family was barely off relief, and there were many of these in the country, was far from desirable. It was a duty cast on all to try to assist these boys, he asserted.

The speaker was introduced by Arthur Minnis and received through the president, Everett Taylor, the thanks of the club on the conclusion of his address.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
CAMERA IN THE CAR

When driving, keep your camera on the seat beside you, loaded and ready. You never know when a picture chance (such as this) will pop up.

DO you keep your camera in your automobile when you're driving—all loaded on the seat beside you, lens and shutter set, ready to shoot at a moment's notice.

Try it sometime, and you'll be surprised how it helps you spot picture opportunities.

Hundreds of pictures can be shot without leaving the car. This is especially true in warm weather, when car windows are down, and the top, in some cases, is folded back.

If you are not doing the driving, your hands are free and there are many more picture opportunities for you—as well as a better snapshot position. The car halts at a street intersection, and there may be a popcorn peddler on the corner, a window washer at the office window above, people busily hurrying to and from work. A small boy is struggling with a big bundle; an old lady passes by with her head wrapped in a shawl—chance for a swell "character" shot. Indeed, all these can be good pictures—natural, "off-guard," full of life.

Never take a drive in the country without your camera. You see more, enjoy yourself more, notice more interesting things if the camera is along. Try making a connected picture story of a Sunday afternoon drive—and you'll be surprised how entertaining it can be. And here's an idea: picture landscapes and interesting stretches of road through the windshield of your car, from the back seat, using the outline of the windshield as a "frame" for the scene. Such pictures show not only what you saw, but how you saw it—hence, they are twice as effective. Needless to say, the windshield glass must be clear.—John van Guilder.

Baggage, Main Floor

A seedy-looking individual sat down at a table in a high-class restaurant.

"Waiter," he called, "fetch me a nice piece of boiled turbot."

The dish was placed before the customer and consumed. Then he called again: "Waiter, fetch a choice portion of curried fowl—and, oh, waiter, another bottle of wine."

The bill mounted up, but still the seedy one called the waiter to fetch one dainty after another.

At last he lit a cigar and sat back.

"Waiter," he called, "fetch—"

"Yes, sir," said the waiter; "fetch you your bill?"

"No," came the languid answer; "fetch a policeman; I haven't any money."
